INTRODUCTION

Dear Public Relations Chair,

Congratulations on being selected as the new public relations chair for your chapter!

The Office of Student Life believes that have a well established public relations program in your chapter assists in the image development within your chapter and the Greek community.

This Public Relations Chair Workbook was developed by the Office of Student Life as an additional resource for Ball State University's Greek community. It is our hope that this workbook will compliment your chapter's public relations program as well as introduce your chapter to the marketing resources available at Ball State University. The ultimate goals of this workbook are to:

- Successfully prepare chapters to have positive Public Relations with their publics
- Enhance public relations within each chapter
- Provide a challenging educational experience which will cultivate commitment and define goals.

The Office of Student Life would like to support you in developing and executing a scholarship program where members feel they have grown to appreciate scholarship and the importance of academic achievement in the rich tradition of your chapter.

Remember, members with high academic potential will only achieve what is expected; environment and expectations provide the keys to success.

In doing so, public relations chairs will have the opportunity to take part in Public Relations Chair training, which will be as follows:

Saturday, February 6 – Student Center Room 302 – 12:00pm

Each chapter is expected to have their public relations chair or assistant at the training program. It is beneficial for the incoming public relations chair to attend, as they will have the opportunity to reflect on the foundation of their public relations program as well as create a program that is reflective of the chapter's values for the upcoming term of the public relations chair.

Again, we congratulate you on being selected to serve as the public relations chair for your chapter and thank you for your commitment to the Greek community.

Sincerely,

The Office of Student Life

WHY IS PUBLIC RELATIONS IMPORTANT?

Greeks are constantly under fire. Many groups simply have a negative perception of the Greek system, especially men's fraternities.

- Our actions in the '60s, '70s, '80s and the '90s have created a public relations nightmare.
- Those outside the Greek system have based their opinions on facts presented to them by the actions of a few fraternities, the media's portrayal of Greeks and their own personal experiences.
- These sources, coupled with misconceptions presented by movies such as Animal House, TV shows, other movies, TV talk shows and editorials have scarred the Greek system.
- We have a long way to go in regaining the prestige fraternities once held in society.

Where does Greek life PR begin?

It is a two-front battle.

- 1) The battle begins in your chapter.
 - If the public's concerns are actually practiced in your chapter -- you need to "clean up your act."
 - A few bad chapters will ruin public relations for the entire system.
 - When fraternities stop hazing, abusing alcohol, mistreating women and being "out of control," the articles in the paper won't relate to negative facts.
- 2) The other front is dealing with your various publics.
 - It requires a proactive strategy that presents your fraternity and the Greek system in a positive light.
 - We cannot afford to sit back and hope that our good actions are noticed -- we need to present them to our public and ensure the message is heard, understood and accepted.

In the eyes of the beholder, perception is reality. That's a challenging thought because we can't control how others perceive us. The College Fraternity Editor's Association (CFEA) says that public relations and our image is derived 90% from what we do and only 10% from what we say. Our actions really do speak louder than our words. While we can't really control how others will perceive what we say or do, we do have the ability to control what we say or do. That's why your chapter's image really does begin with you.

The Benefits of Public Relations

There is no phase of public relations quite as important as the courteous treatment of people. A chapter full of friendly brothers/sisters should have no problem having a favorable acceptance by chapter publics. This gives way to the quote, "Public relations and human relations are synonymous." SOME examples of the benefits from a successful public relations program are:

- 1) Good reputation and favorable treatment by faculty and administrators on your campus.
- 2) Friendship and favorable treatment by students on your campus, whether male or female, Greek or non-Greek.
- 3) Support of your alumni in helping your chapter and in rushing incoming students.
- 4) Cooperation from chapter neighbors.
- 5) Welcomed credit opportunities within the business community.
- 6) Good treatment of your chapter by the community and an understanding of problems which at times may face you.

Training Workbook

Information in this manual was gathered from various sources including Delta Gamma Fraternity Public Relations Handbook, Delta Chi Public Relations BRIEF, FarmHouse International Fraternity Public Relations Handbook, Gamma Phi Beta PR in a Box, National Panhellenic Conference Media Relations Guide, Public Relations: The Profession and the Practice, Theta Chi Fraternity Public Relations Chairman Operations Manual and the Triangle Fraternity Public Relations Manual.*

Learning Outcomes:

- Students will be given the opportunity to share ideas and create their chapter's program, if necessary.
- Students will learn and discuss the purpose and goals of their chapter's public relations program.
- Students will talk about values and how that it is reinforced through the public relations program.
- Students will learn and discuss public relations ideas.
- Students will be inspired to create change within their chapter's public relations program.

Objectives:

- To have an upfront and honest conversation about the issues facing Greek new members on our campus today and how we as the members can hold our membership accountable for academic achievement.
- To provide a challenging educational experience in order to cultivate commitment and excitement in the public relations chairs.

Facilitators:

- Reba Reader, Greek Life Marketing Advisor
- Paul Desmond, IFC VP Public Relations
- Melissa Pieczynski, PHC VP Community Relations

CHAPTER SELF-ANALYSIS

The checklist for evaluating your public relations is endless. But you can get an idea as to how well your chapter is doing by reviewing the following “positives,” all are important in the overall perception of your chapter. Hopefully, these will stimulate you to ask other specific questions and come up with ideas that will improve your chapter’s public relations performance.

- A) Do ALL members of your chapter practice good public relations within the chapter?
 - 1) How do they handle telephone calls?
 - 2) Do members act like good neighbors?
 - 3) Are they courteous to all visitors?
 - 4) When an Inter/National Officer, Leadership Consultant or other fraternity representative visits, do the brothers make it an enjoyable and productive visit for everyone?

- B) Is the chapter well respected on campus?
 - 1) Does the chapter rank in the top 25% of fraternities in scholarship?
 - 2) Does the chapter participate in every major interfraternity activity (intramurals, philanthropies, workshops, etc.)?
 - 3) Is it a leader in IFC affairs, including holding individual offices?
 - 4) Does the chapter have members who hold offices in other campus organizations?
 - 5) Does the chapter foster a spirit of interfraternalism on campus?

- C) Is there a planned program to see that deserving members receive recognition in the campus paper, their hometown papers and the chapter newsletter for superior performances in their studies, other extra-curricular activities?
 - 1) Does the chapter cooperate with the local media and campus public relations office for coverage of chapter achievements?
 - 2) Does the campus alumni publication feature news of chapter and individual members activities?

- D) Does your chapter make a regular practice of inviting members of the faculty and administration to dinner, an evening “fireside chat,” or a social event?
 - 1) Do you invite them and their families when appropriate?
 - 2) Do individual members have a positive rapport with administrators?

- E) Does your chapter help with campus and community public service events?
 - 1) Does your chapter initiate newsworthy events, such as speakers, service projects or civic programs?
 - 2) Does your chapter offer to lend assistance to civic groups?
 - 3) Has the chapter adopted a formal resolution about a campus or local project?
 - 4) Has the chapter, and its members, avoided being mentioned in the media in any negative or unfavorable way?

- F) Does the chapter write letters or notes of congratulation?
 - 1) Are members of the administration and faculty, student leaders, and alumni recognized for their achievements and service?
 - 2) Does the chapter write to express its appreciation to the Alumni Board of Trustees, chapter alumni association, Mothers Club, house corporation, speakers, guests and others?
 - 3) Does the chapter ever write a letter of congratulation to a competitor which your chapter has lost to in an intramural championship?

- 4) Does the chapter ever adopt a formal resolution of congratulation or appreciation?
- G) Are letters from chapter publics answered promptly and satisfactorily?
 - 1) Are copies of letters filed for reference?
 - 2) Is your correspondence with alumni, businesspeople, campus personnel, and your Inter/National Headquarters on a professional basis (all correspondence typed, proofread and in good taste)?
 - H) Are your alumni events carefully planned?
 - 1) Do you actively work to keep your alumni address list accurate (at LEAST 90%)?
 - 2) Do you send publications and letters to all alumni during the year?
 - 3) Do you start planning and publicizing at least 10 weeks before an alumni event?
 - I) Are copies of the alumni newsletter sent to parents and to other chapters of your Inter/National organization?
 - 1) Do you also send it to parents of associate members, faculty and others with whom you have contact?
 - 2) Do the newsletters promote alumni pride and interest in the chapter?
 - 3) Is the alumni newsletter written for alumni (i.e. containing articles about alumni)?
 - J) Does your chapter have an effective Public Relations Chairman?
 - 1) Does he/she follow the responsibilities listed your bylaws and your Inter/National Headquarters Public Relations Manual?
 - 2) Does he /she have a committee?
 - 3) Has he/she read your Public Relations Manual published by your Inter/National Headquarters?

HOW TO PUBLICIZE A SPECIAL EVENT

Here is a suggested timetable for media relations activities leading up to a special event, such as a charity fundraiser. This list is exhaustive; you don't have to do all of this to have a successful event, but the more ways you can publicize the event, the better – especially if you want the general public to attend.

Three months out:

- Meet with your university Public Information Officer (PIO) to determine what help he or she can provide.
- Develop your talking points and the messages you want to convey about the event.
- Begin to compile your media list.
- Assign a media relations coordinator.

Two months out:

- Send a media advisory announcing the date, time and location of the event to calendar editors and assignment desks; include information on how media can participate and whom they should contact.
- Decide what services, if any, you can provide on-site to the media during the event (a press room, Internet hook-up, etc.) and make appropriate arrangements.
- Start keeping track of any interest you get from the media and what their needs are.

One month out:

- Send a media advisor with more details about the event; be sure to include any daybook editors, and ask them to put the event on the daybooks (a calendar just for the media so they know what is coming up).
- Begin making pitch calls to editors to ask them to send a reporter to cover the event.
- Arrange for broadcast interviews for your chapter and/or IFC/NPHC/PHC president and other key people involved in planning the event.

Two weeks out:

- Assemble press kits (except for a press release, which is usually released the day of the event and is written in past tense; use a copy of the media advisor for now).
- Continue working with the media to arrange interviews, gauge interest, etc.
- Get back to any reporters who have been assigned to cover your event or have expressed interest in doing so; send them a press kit and/or invite them to a press briefing, then follow up by phone to see if they have any questions or specific needs.
- Get any quotations from one or two key people to include in the day-of press release.
- Arrange for a photographer who can take digital shots the day of your event.

One week out:

- Draft the day-of press release; write in past tense, and make it sound as much like a news article as you can.
- Get final approval for any quotations in the press release.

Two days prior:

- Send a final media advisory to assignment editors and anyone who indicated they planned to cover the event.
- Do a final round of pitch calls, in this order:

- Reporters who plan on coming – confirm details and tell them whom to look for when they arrive.
- Reporters who expressed interested – encourage them to come, and offer to set up interviews or otherwise to help them with their stories.
- Editors who expressed interest – ask them if they have decided who to assign, and get the contact information of those reporters so you can follow up directly.
- Newly assigned reporters – introduce yourself, confirm details, arrange to overnight or hand-deliver a press kit so they have background information, arrange interviews, etc.
- Weekend assignment editors – most outlets have limited reporters and crews on duty over the weekend, and it is the job of the weekend assignment editor to decide how to use those scarce resources.
- Other reporters and editors – it does not hurt to contact those who never expressed interest in earlier pitches; some outlets, particularly broadcasting, wait until the last minute to decide what to cover.

Day of the event:

- Early in the morning, blast-fax or e-mail the final media advisory to assignment desks at broadcast outlets (they often assign their reporters or camera crews that morning).
- Put the day-of press release in your press kits.
- Send the day-of press release out with an embargo time (tells the media when they can use the information); include a cell phone number if reporters or editors want to reach someone while the event is going on.
- Greet and register media representatives as they arrive, give them a press kit and tell them about any special arrangements you have for them.
- Arrange media interviews, and see to the needs of the reporters throughout the day to help ensure positive coverage.
- Arrange posed and candid photos of the event; make sure anyone who appears in the photos has signed a photo release form (you do not need to do this for public figures such as elected officials, university administrators, etc.). Be sure you have the correct spelling of names.

Day after event:

- Send photos (no smaller than 5x7 printed or 200 dpi digital) with a detailed photo caption to your media list; make sure to include the name and title of anyone who is easily identifiable in the photo(s). When sending digital photos to newspapers, use the Associated Press requirement of 200 dpi (dots per inch) and no more than 2,000 pixels in height or width. Magazines may require a higher resolution, so if you are shooting your own digital photos, shoot at higher mega pixels and then convert the photos to .jpg files for newspapers.
- Follow up with all news outlets that covered the event as well as those who expressed interest but did not attend; try to arrange for follow-up interviews as appropriate.

MARKETING AND PUBLIC RELATIONS VENUES @ BALL STATE

Word of Mouth

Many organizations forget that personal invitation is the most effective way of promoting interest in an event. Talk about the program and build excitement for it. Use every chance you get to invite someone.

Co-sponsorship

When planning a program or event be sure to think of other Ball State offices or student organizations. There are more than 300 organizations that may have the same interest in programs or philanthropies that you are planning. Student organizations including Spectrum, LSU, Late Night, Golden Key, SGA and many more may be interested in cosponsoring with your organization. In addition, a Ball State office may be interested including offices such as the Career Center, Counseling Services, the Health Center, Athletics, the Learning Center and many more. Also, consider what Muncie community organizations or businesses may also be interested in co-sponsoring your event, community service or philanthropy.

BSU Website

Utilize the BSU website by getting events posted on the university calendar. Post your event on the university website by entering info at this link <http://www.bsu.edu/studentlife/form/o,-1638,00.html>

Ball State University Marketing and Communications Department

The Office of University Marketing and Communications raises public awareness of, understanding of, and appreciation for Ball State. It provides a full range of communication, marketing and media relations services to university departments and organizations, including communication planning and analysis, editing, design, media relations, photo services, video production and web site consultation and creation. To contact the Marketing and Communications Department call (765) 285-1560 or e-mail them at umc@bsu.edu.

News Center Web site

The News Center Web site is produced by University Marketing and Communications. The purpose of the site is to highlight the latest news and events at Ball State University. To make comments or suggestions about the web site you can contact them at bsunews@bsu.edu or (765) 285-1560.

Photo Services

Is a division of University Marketing and Communications that takes and provides official photos of campus and campus events and people. The Photo Services website provides print-quality photos for easy downloading. For more information call (765) 285-1571 or visit their website at <http://www.bsu.edu/photoservices/>.

Facebook

Ensure to create groups and invite as many potential members to join as possible. Ensure that the group has weekly updates.

Posters & Flyers

Post flyers throughout campus in many different locations. Flyers are in open to be posted in any academic building without approval. If you hang flyers or banners on departmental bulletin boards, you must ask the department for approval before hanging it. Please contact each department for approval. To post flyers or posters in the Student Center they must be approved by Charlie Scofield cscofiel@bsu.edu or (765)285-1850). They are not to be attached in any way to poles, doors, windshields, walls, windows or other university property.

Leaflets & Handbills

These and similar materials may be distributed directly by hand to other persons or through campus mail (must be addressed). They are not to be attached in any way to poles, doors, windshields, walls, windows or other university property.

Classroom Chalking

Chalk/Marker advertisements are allowed in top right corner of classroom boards. Professors have the right to erase messages if space is needed for classroom instruction (you may want to put “do not erase” in the announcement so the custodial staff does not erase the message).

Websites

Create a website about an event or create a page of your main chapter website with an easy to remember address for non-Greeks to remember. Use handbills to tell people to visit the website for more information.

Hats, t-shirts, buttons, tags, candy suckers, clothespins and sandwich boards

These are great publicity seekers and are permitted on campus. Make any of these and have your members participate by wearing them or handing them out.

Flyswatter

The flyswatter between the North Quad and Burkhardt buildings is used heavily for banners. Banners may be placed on either the north or the south sides of the flyswatter. Contact Charlie Scofield at cscofiel@bsu.edu or (765)285-1850 to reserve the space. Two people are needed to hang or remove a banner. If another group’s banner is already on the flyswatter, remove it and take to it the Student Center Office when returning the key. The key must be returned to the office by 5p.m. Banners should be taken down by 5p.m. on the last scheduled day or at 8a.m. the following morning. It is essential that someone from Greek Life remove our banners since the next group may not return it.

Banners

Banners may be hung on the Student Center. Banners may be displayed on the north side of the Student Center. Contact Charlie Scofield at cscofiel@bsu.edu or (765)285-1850 to reserve a space on the Student Center. The student center staff will hang and remove the banner.

Information Tables

Utilize Information tables at the Student Center, Atrium, Scramble Light (contact for more information Charlie Scofield at cscofiel@bsu.edu or (765)285-1850), Library, any other location where student travel may be high.

Student Center Marquee

Marquee located in the front of the Student Center can advertise any event in the Student Center. To have your event placed on the marquee contact Charlie Scofield at cscofiel@bsu.edu or (765)285-1850.

Daily News

Advertise and be interviewed for articles in the newspaper. (Thursday is the highest circulation day, so try to get something in the paper that day). Speak with the Greek life writer for the most accurate article. Email the Daily News for info on how to get an item in the “Days Ahead” column, daysahead@bsdailynews.com or call them at (765) 285-8247. “Days Ahead” announcements must be submitted a day ahead by 1p.m to AJ 276. Each day must have a separate form submitted for multiple day events and can run up to three days.

Student Label Request Procedures for Student Organizations

Requests for student labels will be considered from recognized student organizations for the purpose of recruiting new members or providing a student or university service, which will not result in solicitations or partisan political activities. Students who have requested Ball State to withhold directory information will not be listed in accordance with the provisions of the Family Educations Rights and Privacy Act.

A request may be made in the Student Life office in the Student Center Room 133. A copy of the material to be mailed must accompany the request and the Director will review the material for approval. If approved, the request will be sent to the Student Affairs Systems Office, AD 231 for further review in regard to the Privacy Act and university policy. When necessary, final approval will be made by the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Freshman Label Request and Mailing Procedures

Please follow the procedure below for sending a summer mailing to Incoming Freshmen students.  Please be aware that the GPA criterion and the calendar dates and deadlines are changed each year and chapters must adhere to the changes that are made yearly. The dates are still to be determined. Please contact Maria Bumbalough at mbumbalough@bsu.edu for more information.

1) Create Your Mailing

Design and edit the letter or flyer you would like to send. Be sure it is error free and conveys accurate information about your organization. It is a good idea to have at least one other person proofread before you submit the mailing for approval.

2) Submit for Approval

Submit the letter or flyer and all enclosures to the Office of Student Life for approval approximately by TBA. We will then notify you if the mailing requires corrections or changes.

3) Revise and Resubmit

Make all required corrections and resubmit the final edits to the Office of Student Life approximately by TBA. All mailings and label requests will be submitted to the Office of Admissions for approval approximately on TBA.

4) Office of Admissions Approval

The Office of Admissions will then approve or deny each organization's label request. (For fraternity requests, the Office of Admissions will run one request with the same GPA criterion for all chapters with an approved submission; they will then provide a label count and produce an identical set of labels for each chapter.) We will notify you if your request has been approved by Admissions and of the number of mailings you should print by approximately by June 29.

5) Processing the Mailing

Do not print your materials until they have been approved and until you have received a count (to save printing costs). Include postage, printing costs, and mailing seals or envelopes (if needed) in your mailing budget. Labels will be available for pick up on TBA. Organizations are responsible for printing their mailings, paying their own postage and preparing the mailing (i.e. stuffing the envelopes, applying mailing seals to flyers, delivering to the post office). Be sure to keep your mailing in zip code (labels will be printed in zip code order across rows) as you prepare the mailing to be sent—this will save on postage costs.

Ball State University Residence Hall Policy for Hall Solicitation/Posting/Lounge Usage

Solicitation

Door-to-door distribution, solicitation, fund raising, sales, or commercial activity are not permitted within the residence halls. A student may, however, by express invitation invite a distributor, solicitor, fundraiser or salesperson to the students' room for distribution, solicitation, fund-raising, sales to that student and the students' invited guests in the privacy of his or her own room. In addition, a student may engage in distribution, solicitation, fund raising or sales in the privacy of his or her own room.

Deliveries may be made to the lounge area only if:

1. The commercial activity consists of demonstration of goods and services not only involving sales and is sponsored by that hall's council.
2. The commercial activity, including sales, is part of a fund-raising activity of the hall's council and is conducted in accordance with the restrictions of paragraph 4.02 of the Ball State policy concerning distribution, solicitation, fund-raising, sales and commercial activity on university property (see Expressive Activities Policy in the Handbook for Student Organizations).

Posting Policy and Guidelines for Posters & Flyers

The Office of Housing and Residence Life restricts access to residence hall facilities to residents and their escorted guests, and individuals conducting official University business. For those recognized Ball State University student organizations and activities, non-profit organizations, and commercial enterprises who wish to advertise in the residence halls the following guidelines have been established to assure our residents a safe and comfortable living environment as well as some degree of privacy.

Ball State University student organizations, non-profit organizations, and commercial enterprises who wish to publicize events, services or products in the form of a poster or flyer should send their materials to Cathy Bickel, Associate Director of Housing and Residence Life or her Secretary, Peggie Love, in LaFollette N-13 for official approval. Approved flyers and posters will be distributed to the residence halls and posted by hall staff. We recommend sending two flyers or posters per hall for a total of 70. If the advertisement is in the form of a coupon or souvenir we request that you provide 50 for each hall for a maximum of 1750. We would appreciate it if the coupons or souvenirs were bundled in packages of 50 for easy distribution.

Organizations may also drop off flyers, posters, coupons or souvenirs at the front desk of each residence hall for approval and posting by a hall staff. Again, we recommend a maximum of two flyers or posters and a maximum of 50 coupons or souvenirs per hall.

Only one posting per event is allowed. All ads or flyers received from commercial enterprises will be placed in a designated space reserved for such organizations. All ads or flyers received by campus affiliated organizations will also have a designated space in which publicity may be posted. All flyers and ads taken from commercial enterprises and campus affiliated organizations will be posted in their designated space within the common areas of the halls only. We will not post any information for non-residence hall affiliated events or activities on residence hall floors.

Posting priority in the common areas will be given to all Student Life affiliated and recognized groups. The Office of Housing and Residence Life reserves the rights to not post ads or flyers that are not in accordance with the mission statement of the Office of Housing and Residence Life or Ball State University policies. Please note that items cannot be placed in student mailboxes that are not specifically addressed to an individual. Markings or postings on exterior surfaces of residence halls and complexes also are prohibited; this includes but is not limited to writing messages on sidewalks using chalk or tape.

Residence Hall Lobby and Lounge Usage

Residence hall lobbies and lounges are reserved for residence hall students' use only. University organizations may not reserve or meet in any residence hall lobby or lounge, nor may a resident of a residence hall reserve or meet in their hall lobby or lounge for the specific purpose that supports a University organization. All lobby or lounge programs or meetings must be sponsored by Housing and Residence Life staff (Resident Assistants, Multicultural Advisors, Freshmen Connection Assistants) or hall council sponsored activities that are supervised and operated by Housing and Residence Life employees or hall council members. All lobby and lounge reservations must be requested and approved by the residence hall director.

WORKING WITH THE MEDIA

How to Write Media Materials

- 1) Regardless of the medium, every reporter is looking to tell a story.
- 2) The balance in writing media materials is to convey the facts while telling a compelling story. The better you do this, the easier the journalists' jobs will be and the more likely you are to get coverage. This is the key to a successful relationship between news sources and the media.
- 3) Journalists are looking for certain key facts for every story: who, what, when, where, how and why. All of your media materials should answer all of those questions, and any press release should answer at least the first four in the first paragraph.
- 4) It is important to write your press materials in a journalistic style. Virtually all U.S. media outlets use "The Associated Press Stylebook" as a writing guide, so you should too. It is available for about $15 in most bookstores or online at www.apstylebook.com.
- 5) Ideally, a press release tells a story in a style that mimics the media. In other words, it is written as a news or feature story, not as a "puff piece."
- 6) Stick to the facts, and keep opinions or hype limited to the quotations from your key people.
- 7) Keep it short (a page is ideal; never more than two). A press release should cover no more than three major points.
- 8) Back up your media materials with facts and figures, which you should have at your fingertips during an interview or available to fax or e-mail if a reporter requests additional information.
- 9) Photo captions can be an important part of your media materials. A photo caption is similar to the lead paragraph of a press release; it needs to convey the "who, what, when, where, how and why." A caption also needs to explain the photo with action verbs.
- 10) Don't forget to put all of your media materials on your Web site if you have one.
- 11) Ideally, you have a readily identifiable "press room" on your Web site, which allows reporters to quickly and easily see what information you have available. Be sure to keep it current, and do not put up embargoed information ahead of time.
- 12) Another helpful tool to have on your Web site is a link where reporters can send you an e-mail message or sign up to receive more information via a short online form.

How to Develop a Press Kit

What is in a Press Kit?

A traditional press kit is a two-pocket folder with a press release and about a half dozen supporting pieces about the main topic of the release. A generic press kit for a chapter might contain:

- An Inter/National organization fact sheet or brochure
- Local chapter fact sheet or brochure (include information about activities, membership, etc.)
- FAQs (frequently asked questions)
- Press release or media advisory of any upcoming events
- List of your officers, sponsors, etc.
- Photos (with captions on the back identifying anyone who is recognizable in the photo)

What to put in a press kit for a press conference

- A list of speakers and their titles, in the order they will speak.
- For a broadcast outlet, you could add a videotape with highlights of chapter functions.
- Do not include past press clippings; media outlets may not want to cover your event if they think the story is not “new.”

How to assemble a Press Kit

- Assemble the press kits in a two-pocket folder with a label on the front clearly identifying the organization.
- Be sure to include a business card or other contact information for the person handling media relations.
- Always include the URL for the your Inter/National organization and/or the NPC/NIC/NPHC Web site as well as the URL of your chapter and/or IFC/NPHC/PHC Web site if there is one.
- More and more organizations are adding online press kits to their Web sites and/or putting their media materials on a computer disk to make it easier for the news outlet to capture and use their data (especially photos, charts or lists that would be difficult or cumbersome to reproduce or recreate in the newsroom).

The Use of Photos in your Press Kit

- Photos are great in a press kit and can really help enhance your chances of coverage by showing visually interesting images.
- Either reproduce the photos at 5x7, or provide them on a disk with a printout of the images.
- Make sure your photos are current and show action rather than just posed “grip and grin” shots.
- Anyone who is recognizable in the photo should be identified by name and title.
- Be sure you have signed photo release forms for everyone in the photo before you release it to the media (minors must have their parents’ signatures on the forms).

Ensure that everything is uniform

- Give all of your pieces a uniform look by reproducing them on the same type of paper or on chapter letterhead.
- Use the same font and page style throughout.
- Proofread over and over, and make sure you have someone else read through everything to ensure that it is as polished as can be (it is very hard to proofread your own writing).
- Read each piece and ask yourself: who, what, when, where, how and why.
- Make sure every piece, and especially the press release, answers those questions.

- Put a name, phone number and e-mail address for a media contact on every piece.

How to write a media advisory

A media advisory is used primarily to invite the media to a specific event — a press conference, a fund-raiser, an awards banquet, etc. Whenever you have an event that is open to the media, you should put out a media advisory. Give it a bold and catchy headline like that on a press release, and put a contact name, phone and e-mail at the top. Then list five or six bullets of key information:

- What: The name of your event
- Who: Participants (including names of prominent individuals) and who is invited
- When: Day of the week, date and time (double and triple check!)
- Where: Event location (be specific and give directions if needed)
- Why: A few paragraphs about the event and why it is being held
- How: Optional; use if necessary to explain anything unusual or to give credit to a sponsor who made the event possible

Don't give away too much information — the idea is to entice the media to come and cover the event. If there will be an interesting image, be sure to say so.

- T.V. stations in particular like to cover events with a visual hook.
- Send your media advisory to news directors, assignment editors and anyone else who might be making a decision about what events the media outlet may be covering.
- You should send it the first time about 10-14 days before the event (if local) and again two to three days before.

How to Work with Your University Public Information Officer

Ball State's public information or press officer (PIO) can be a great resource for your chapter.

How much assistance he or she can actually provide depends, but it would be a good idea to develop a positive relationship and meet regularly with the PIO whenever possible.

What can a PIO help our chapter with?

The kinds of things your PIO may be able to offer include:

- A university press list (he or she may just give you a copy of the list or offer to put out your releases for you)
- Access to media directories to help you create your own list or augment the university's list
- Access to other PR services the PIO may purchase or subscribe to.
- Advice or assistance in managing your media relations
- Editing help to make sure your materials conform to journalistic style

This might be a great opportunity for a chapter member who is majoring in journalism or public relations to get first-hand experience working with professionals. Ask about internship options as well.

What do I need to do to work with Ball State's PIO?

Be sure to understand what role, if any, the Ball State's PIO has in the approval process for media relations efforts conducted by campus groups.

- If you are required to get PIO approval on your materials, give plenty of time for the review.
- If you can, say, "If I don't hear from you by such-and-such a date, I'll assume this is OK to send as is." Then call or e-mail the PIO two or three days before to remind him or her of the deadline. Don't let a busy PIO keep you from getting media coverage.

How to Handle Press for a Special Event

- The person running a special event should never also be in charge of the media.
 - If you think that the media will be participating in your event, assign a dedicated media relations person to help ensure a smoother event and better coverage.
 - That person should staff the press table, provide information for reporters and arrange interviews.
- The day of the event, you should have a clearly marked table for the press.
 - Have a sign-in sheet that asks for name, media outlet, phone and e-mail address, and require journalists to sign in before you give them a press kit.
 - Don't put the press kits out on the table, but keep them in a box so you can control who gets them.
 - Also have handy a box of inexpensive pens (putting them out without their caps makes them less likely to "walk away") and other office supplies.
- Your media person should greet reporters, ask them to sign in, give them a press kit and ask if they need anything special or have any requests.
- If they want to interview someone specific, help them make the arrangements in a way that avoids disrupting the event.
- Major events provide reporters with a quiet press room, food and drinks, office supplies, computer lines and/or telephone outlets, etc., but none of that would be expected for a college event.
- Be sure to have a good photographer on-site so that if the news media does not cover your event, you can send photos afterward.
 - Print and deliver them within a day or so to local newspapers.
 - You can also extend the reach of your event by calling the media as soon as the event is over and pitching your key people for interviews.

How to Follow Up with the Press

- 1) Before an event, as you pitch targeted media by phone or e-mail, keep track of who is truly interested, who seems to want more information and who doesn't. The trick is to stay "top of mind" without being a pest.
- 2) After an event, follow up with any reporter who attended or who gave you coverage leading up to it.
 - Use the business cards and/or the sign-in sheet from your press table to:
 - Write thank you notes to those who provided coverage.
 - Update your media list.
 - Send additional press releases on your event's results.
- 3) Tracking your media coverage gives you the opportunity to analyze how your messages are played out and will be very helpful to you in the future to determine what works and what doesn't.
- 4) Check with your PIO to see if it subscribes to a commercial monitoring or clipping service (two national services are Bacon's and BurrellesLuce; there are numerous regional services) and, if so, if it will share clips with you.
 - You might also check with the college PIO to see if he or she subscribes to such a service and if you can add your key words.
 - If not, you may be able to get a short-term contract with a regional service provider, or ask a local public relations firm to provide this service on a pro bono basis.
 - If none of these options work, ask everyone involved in your event to save media clips for you. If you know that a local radio or T.V. station has sent a crew, you may want to tape the programs or outlets to see if they use it.

PRESS RELEASES

What is a press release?

- A press release is the provision of information to a selected media like newspaper, magazine, radio or television.
- The information generally satisfies public curiosity, announces a public service or presents facts from a given situation.
- With this in mind, there are two types of press releases: advance and follow-up.
 - 1) Advance releases, as the name implies, are released in advance of an event.
 - They announce the event and/or serve as reminders in support of other advertising efforts.
 - 2) Follow-up releases present news that has happened.
 - They are beneficial in reporting the results of a philanthropic effort, a chapter accomplishment or in reporting a positive trend in the Greek system.

How should I write a Press Release?

The release should be brief and should be geared to answer who, what, where, when, why and occasionally, how. In preparing your press release, remember the following:

1. The information included should be appropriate to the medium to which it is sent.
 - Do not bother editors with material you know they cannot use.
 - It is best to contact the service editor for any questions pertaining to any guidelines.
2. The contact person from your chapter should provide his or her name, title, organization, address, and phone number in case the editor has any questions.
3. A release line should also be included at the top of the page indicating the date for release. If the release is distributed in advance, the release should read, "Hold for release..."
4. The standard format for most press releases calls for the use of 8-1/2" x 11" paper, double-spaced copy, wide margins and copy on only one side of the paper.
5. Releases, which run more than one page in length, should carry a page number at the center top of each page beginning with the second.
 - Each page should end with a complete sentence in case the pages are separated.
 - To indicate that the material is continued on another page, "MORE" is generally typed at the center at the bottom of the page.
 - Usually "-30-" is typed in the center at the bottom of the last page of a release to indicate the end of the copy.
6. When photographs are included with a release, they should always include the caption line glued to the bottom of the border with rubber cement.
 - The name, address and telephone number of the contact should appear on the back of the photo.
 - In most cases, the photo should be black and white for the best reproduction.

Writing Announcements

How is an announcement different from a Press Release?

An announcement is a brief statement to the public (including media) that does not really qualify as a news item but that may be of interest to a sub-set of the outlet's audience.

What is necessary when writing an Announcement?

- Most print publications have columns that list things like upcoming events (social, business, etc.), people in the news, new employee appointments, school and military news, even home sales and police actions.
- Write your announcement very briefly, in the formula of the targeted column or publication, and fax or e-mail it about three weeks before you want the item to run.
- If you want the general public to attend an event you are hosting, be sure to send information to any calendar of events listings in your local newspapers.
- Allow plenty of time - at least three to four weeks before you want it to appear.

The Ten Commandments of Press Releases

- 1) Thou shalt be selective with the releases thou sendest. Don't waste your ammunition on every little story possibility. Stories that bore you can bore reporters as well and leave a bad taste in their mouth.
- 2) Thou shall not send multiple copies of the same release. It can cause confusion and waste time. If you do your homework and send it to the right department, your story has a good chance of being selected.
- 3) Thou shalt have contact names and phone numbers on all releases. Reporters must be able to contact someone who can clarify information. Generally use two contact people and include business and home phone numbers.
- 4) Thou shalt know deadlines. It's a good idea to let reporters know what is coming. This way they can properly plan for it and do some homework.
- 5) Thou shalt follow up with a telephone call. The follow up call should just be a check to see if the release was received and if it is in the right department. Don't try to determine if it will be used -- doing so disturbs the press.
- 6) Thou shalt take "no" for an answer. If, after having given it your best shot, the answer is "no," forget it. Don't be offended, and don't take it personally.
- 7) Thou shalt find out about standard criteria. Be familiar with the different media you will be selecting. Promotions and position changes occur frequently. Also know which department reports which types of stories.
- 8) Thou shalt know and respect the meaning of "exclusive." This means giving the story to one medium at the expense of all other media. Reporters who get burned tend to remember.
- 9) Thou shalt not send releases to people who left the publication years ago. Editors tend to frown upon mail addressed to a displaced, or sometimes deceased, predecessor.
- 10) Thou shalt get to know reporters before needing one. Develop a working relationship with a contact person in each of your desired media. They might not use all of your releases, but it helps to treat them like people. Using them as speakers at "Guest Night" can help.

Writing Press Releases

Consider the following when writing your press release:

A. Summarize the news in the first sentence or two – the lead paragraph – and/or include the following in the first two paragraphs:

1. Who – said or did something
2. What – was said or happened
3. When – it was said or happened
4. Where – it was said or happened
5. Why – it was said or happened
6. How – it was said or happened, if appropriate

For example: Members of the University of Texas chapter of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity (who) move back (what) this weekend (when) into the chapter house, 2308 Nueces, (where) which has been rebuilt following the fire last December 23, that caused $500,000 worth of damage (why).

B. Incorporate Facts in descending order of importance, known as the inverted pyramid technique, to:

1. Enable readers to get the most important information even if they only read part of the story.
2. Permit editors to cut stories from the bottom if time or space is limited without omitting crucial information.

C. Be accurate and truthful. Expect questions for clarification, verification and amplification, particularly if your news is controversial or unusual in any respect. A major error in a release puts the media on guard and one in print raises a question about your chapter in the public's mind.

D. Be direct and objective. KISS - Keep It Simple and Short – whether a word, sentence, or paragraph. Paragraphs are shorter, often one or two sentences, in a press release than in a college term paper.

1. Use adjectives and adverbs sparingly – and superlatives, seldom if ever.
2. Use appropriate nouns and third-person pronouns – not we, our, you, or your.
3. Eliminate unnecessary information and facts.
4. Use direct quotes to add credibility and interest.
5. Don't editorialize; attribute opinion to someone.

E. Be specific; say something.

1. Give results, end products and outcomes.
2. Identify people fully. Use the full name for the first mention of a person; thereafter use the last name (with such titles as Dr., Rev., etc.).
3. In many cases, further identify a member by putting the name of his or her hometown after the first mention of his or her name. When reporting a list of names, such as new members, group all members from the same hometown to use the town name just once.

F. Writing the lead

1. The lead, or the first sentence or two, is the most important part of the press release.

2. A quick glance at the lead will tell the editor if your story is interesting.
3. The lead is the hook that entices the editor to consider your release.
4. Before writing the lead determine what is unique about the event in the release.
5. The summary lead is the most common lead.
 - i. It includes the 5 W's (who, what, when, why and how).
6. Although it is important to include all pertinent information early in the release, the most important elements need to appear in the first paragraph, and the rest can follow in logical order.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Local Delta Gamma chapter holds Anchor Splash™ event

The State College chapter of Delta Gamma Fraternity will hold its tenth annual Anchor Splash™ on Saturday, August 14 at 2 p.m. at the campus natatorium. All proceeds will benefit the Local Elementary School for Children who are Blind and the Fraternity's international philanthropy project, Service for Sight.

Twenty teams of Greek and non-Greek participants will compete in a series of contests, fund raisers and competitions, culminating at Saturday's pool events. Each team will swim relays – both traditional and novelty – and perform a brief synchronized swimming routine.

The Delta Gamma chapter has been collecting contributions. Donations will also be accepted at the door. Local Store and Local Shop sponsored the event and provided trophies and door prizes.

Delta Gamma Fraternity is an international women's fraternity, headquartered in Columbus, Ohio, and consisting of more than 180,000 members. Delta Gamma's purpose is to foster high ideals of friendship among women, to promote their educational and cultural interests, to create in them a true sense of social responsibility and to instill in them the best qualities of character. The Delta Gamma Foundation guides members to "Do Good" in support of its philanthropic mission: sight conservation and aid to those who are blind and visually impaired.

2,000 cans of food were collected last week for the Homeless Outreach of downtown City. This effort, sponsored by FarmHouse Fraternity, was supported by local residents in university's neighborhood and by local media.

The Homeless Outreach reports that this donation will help 250 homeless residents eat next week. However, donations are still needed to continue this valuable program. John Jones, director of the Homeless Outreach, can be contacted at (555) 555-1234. The Homeless Outreach has been serving City since 1986

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS

What are Public Service Announcements?

- Public Service Announcements, or PSAs, are used for radio and television media to gain publicity and recognition for public service events.
- They are not used for other types of publicity; they MUST HAVE a service-oriented message.
- These spots are free and they are selected purely on the interest of the event as described in your press release and public service announcement.

How do I know how to write a PSA?

- The PSA is written to be heard, rather than read, by the intended audience.
- It should be written in a conversational tone.
- The announcer must sound as if he is talking to the audience – not reading to them.
- For your public service announcement to be selected, it should be received by the station no later than 4 weeks prior to the release date.
- The standard length of a PSA can be 10, 20, 30 or 60 seconds.
- It is best to call the station and ask for its preference and ask for the name of whom to address the announcement.
 - It is better to use the person's name on the envelope than his or her position or title. This holds true for all correspondence.

How are PSAs different for TV?

- For televised PSAs, you may have the option of providing a video or slides. Be sure to take advantage of this opportunity.
- Screen the content and make sure there is nothing negative – especially alcohol or alcohol advertising.
- The announcement can be in two forms; audio or written.
 - An audiotape should be timed within the chosen length, sounding smooth and professional.
 - The written form can be done in two formats depending if there are supporting visual aids.

ALUMNI NEWSLETTERS

Here are some things to consider when creating your alumni or alumnae newsletter

NEWSLETTER DESIGN:

If you produce it:

- 1) Elicit a chapter or council member with desktop publishing skills to design it
- 2) It doesn't have to be elaborate, but it should look professional
- 3) Do not use any questionable photos and/or comments
- 4) Check with your local post office about bulk rates for mailing the newsletter

If you have it produced:

- 1) Check your local Yellow Pages for "printing companies" and compare services and costs
- 2) Always proof the final copy before it goes to print
- 3) Contact your alumni affairs office at the university for ideas and suggested companies
- 4) Design the newsletter using Adobe InDesign. This is the preferred format by most publishers

NEWSLETTER CONTENT:

It is an alumni/ae newsletter, so of course the newsletter should have information that is of interest to that constituent.

Alumni News (70% of newsletter)

- Announcements/calendar of special events, i.e. Homecoming, Alumni/ae Weekend, reunions and alumni/ae meetings
- Stories about alumni/ae events, after the fact. Include names and pictures of attendees
- Recognition of financial donors
- Alumni and alumnae that help with a chapter project
- A list of lost members (missing addresses)
- Other items, which might be of interest to your readers, may also be included. Just a few examples are:
 - "Blast from the Past" or "Remember When" section using old photographs
 - A recruitment recommendation and information return card
 - An article recognizing the achievements of alumni/ae in their respective professions
 - Pictures/articles of house improvements
 - Campus issues targeted towards alumni

Chapter News (20% of newsletter)

Chapter news should be minimal.

- Number of new members/initiates for the semester
- Individual and chapter scholarship
- Campus and community service projects
- Distinguished accomplishments by the chapter or individual members
- Awards received by the chapter or individual members

Campus News (10% of newsletter)

Ball State may not always inform alumnus members of important school dates. The newsletter should also include some of the following:

- Dates for Ball State homecoming and alumni weekends
- Dates for Ball State sporting events

SAMPLE LETTERS

Sample Congratulations to Civic Leaders

Mr. John Doe
123 City Street
Town City, State 12345

Dear Mr. Doe:

The Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity congratulate you on your recent election as mayor of our fine city.

If we can help your office in any way, please let us know. The men of Theta Chi Fraternity pride themselves on developing young leaders for our community. We welcome your involvement with our college and hopefully our chapter over the upcoming years.

Again, congratulations on your election and best of luck for your success.

Sincerely,

The Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity

Sample Letter to Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown
9876 Fraternity Street
College Town, ST 12345

Dear Brown Family,

On Saturday evening, April 10, Theta Chi Fraternity will be hosting a social event. The event will begin at 10:00pm and will end precisely at 1:00am. The event will host approximately 100 people. They will all be students and members of our University's Greek Community.

The chapter will be following the risk management guidelines that were given to you at the beginning of the semester. We will do our best to keep the noise level low. The grounds will be cleaned of all litter no later than 10:00am the next morning. If you have any problems that evening, or at any time, feel free to call our President, Frederick Freeman, immediately. His number is 555-1856.

Thank you again for your continued help and understanding.

Sincerely,

The Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity

Sample Congratulations Letters to Parents

A. Letter of Congratulations for membership

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith
123 Oak Drive
Town City, State 12345

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Smith,

On behalf of the Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity we would like to congratulate you on your son's acceptance to our university and our chapter. The fraternity experience is one where your son will continue to grow and develop. It will help make the transition from high school to college life a lot easier.

Our Fraternity is a family, and you are now a part of our family. You are welcome to visit the chapter at any time and take part in your son's experience. We have scheduled Parent's Day for February 15, 20XX at 12 noon. We will be sending more information shortly.

Thank you for supporting your son's decision to join a fraternity. We welcome any questions you may have.

Sincerely,

The Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity

B. Letter of Congratulations for Academics and Invitation

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith
123 Oak Drive
Town City, State 12345

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Smith,

Congratulations to you and your family on your son making the Dean's List. The Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity are proud of Mike and his hard work. He has definitely raised our chapter's reputation and standard as an academic fraternity.

He will be receiving an award from the chapter at our annual Scholarship Banquet. It will be held at the University Reception Room on May 20, 20XX at 7:00pm. You are invited to attend and share in this honor.

If you have any questions, please call Frederick Freeman, Parent Relations Chairman, at 111-555-1856.

Sincerely,

The Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity

Sample Letters to Alumni/ae

A. Letter of Appreciation

Mr. Arthur Chase
1856 Norwich Dr.
Anytown, State 12345

Dear Brother Art,

Thank you for visiting the chapter during your recent business trip. The brothers enjoyed meeting you and sharing stories of brotherhood. Your donation was appreciated as well. All alumni donations go to our alumni fund, which supports the chapter alumni room and alumni events/newsletters.

We would like to take this opportunity to invite you to the chapter's next alumni event. We are having a barbecue before the homecoming football game vs. Rival Tech. This gathering is open to your entire family. More information will be sent to you shortly.

Feel free to call upon the brotherhood if you are in the area again. You are always welcome at the chapter.

Fraternally,

The Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity

B. Letter of Recognition

Mr. Arthur Chase
1856 Norwich Dr.
Anytown, State 12345

Dear Brother Art,

Congratulations on your recent election to the State Senate. The chapter is proud of your accomplishment.

It is always a pleasure to see Theta Chi members assume leadership roles in our society. The fraternity will continue to teach the ideals that help develop future leaders.

We wish you the best of luck in your new position. If the chapter can help you in any way during the upcoming months, do not hesitate to ask. Our Helping Hand is always extended to you.

Fraternally,

The Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity

Sample Thank You Letters

The following letters should be typed, using chapter stationary or NEATLY handwritten on thank you cards. Handwritten letters on chapter stationery not only looks bad, it violates the rules of etiquette.

A. Letter to a legacy's relative or a recruitment recommendation who joined your chapter

October 13, 2008

Joe Doe
2 Real World
Anytown, US 12345

Dear Brother Doe:

We are happy to announce that John Doe has accepted a bid to join Delta Chi and is now a member of our fraternity. We thought we would take a little extra time to tell you how pleased we are that John decided on D-Chi as his fraternity. As you can imagine, many fraternities were interested in him and the competition was extremely keen.

We are pleased that the spirit, character and reputation of Delta Chi convinced him that ours was the fraternity for him.

To be sure, our chapter is most grateful to you for letting us know about John. Without your assistance, we might not have been able to associate with him. The information you forwarded was invaluable in the assessment of John's abilities, and allowed us to determine early that he is a man who meets the high standards of our fraternity.

You would be pleased to know, too, that John's high regard for you influenced him in the direction of Delta Chi.

Again, thank you for your thoughtfulness. We know that you are as pleased as we are to call John a Brother.

Fraternally,

Shawn Timmons
Recruitment Chairman

B. Letter of appreciation

October 13, 2008

Jane Doe
2 Real World
Anytown, US 12345

Dear Mrs. Doe,

On behalf of the Delta Theta Chapter of Delta Chi, I wish to extend sincere thanks to you and our Mothers Club for buying us a new television set. Quite often, we appear to take for granted so many of the contributions of the Mothers Club. We want you to know, however, that your thoughtfulness is always appreciated - even though it may not always be acknowledged. You know the fraternity house is yours as well as ours, and we hope you will feel free to stop in and visit with us.

Thanks again.

Sincerely,

President
Delta Theta Chapter of the Delta Chi Fraternity

CHAPTER WEBSITE RECOMMENDATIONS

The following are recommended guidelines that can assist your chapter; this is not a Ball State Policy.

Official Inter/National Organization Web Site

Your inter/national organization has established a web site to disburse information to members and potential members. Please refer to their web site for more information.

Establishing Chapter Web Sites

Greek-letter chapters, alumnae chapters and house corporation boards may establish chapter Web sites. Information pertaining to recruitment/intake should be approved by IFC/NPHC/PHC and reviewed by the Ball State University Office of Student Life, where appropriate. All members are expected to uphold the ideals and purposes of your inter/national fraternity or sorority. It is important that your chapter web sites represent your inter/national organization and Greek life with a positive image.

Chapter Web Site Guidelines

- 1) Use discretion when determining the appropriate information to add to the Web site. This includes, but is not limited to, refraining from displaying, disseminating or participating in computer network discussions regarding subject matter containing material that may be considered offensive to others and/or inconsistent with the values of your Inter/National organization or the National Panhellenic Conference (NPC)/National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC)/North-American Interfraternity Conference (NIC).
- 2) Thoroughly research and verify history, facts and information before adding it to the Web site.
- 3) Update the site regularly. Avoid post dated information on the site.
- 4) Use proper grammar and spelling.
- 5) Do not post photographs that depict alcohol, paddles or inappropriate behavior.
- 6) Review your organization's (including your inter/national organization) rules and procedures, bylaws and fundraising policy as when including a fundraising project on the web site.
- 7) Do not include any organization confidential materials including business transactions, ritual or individual chapter business.
- 8) Do not include names and phone numbers of individual members without prior written approval from that individual.
- 9) Get a written waiver from anyone included in photographs to be used on the web site.
- 10) List the accomplishments, activities, awards and philanthropic activities of your chapter.
- 11) Do not include addresses of chapter houses or activities.
- 12) Include a contact e-mail address for visitors who wish to submit questions or comments.
- 13) Do not include product endorsements of non-fraternity/sorority items or other personal/commercial advertisements on any your organization's web sites.
- 14) Do not use your organization's name, graphics or photographs for personal use, gain or profit.

- 15) Include links to other sites that promote and uphold the ideals of your inter/national organization which follow the intent of this policy such as your inter/national organization's web site, IFC/NPHC/PHC, Ball State University, Ball State University Greek life, etc.

PUBLIC RELATIONS IDEAS

20 Tips for Developing Better Campus Relations

- 1) Let the Greek Life Advisor know early when there is bad news.
- 2) Let the Greek Life Advisor know when there is good news.
- 3) Have your Executive Board and your Chapter Advisor meet at least once a semester/quarter with the Greek Life Advisor.
- 4) Ask for advice when you need it.
- 5) Utilize campus resources.
- 6) Turn things in the Greek Life Office on time, return calls and/or reply to emails promptly, and attend (on time) meetings.
- 7) Invite Greek Life staff and other administrators to chapter events (Parents Day, Scholarship Dinner, Awards Dinner, community service projects, etc.)
- 8) Invite the Greek Life Advisor to speak at a chapter meeting and/or meet with your new members once a semester/quarter.
- 9) Set up appointments (at least a week in advance) when your national consultant or regional officer going to be visiting the chapter.
- 10) Include the Greek Advisor on mailing lists for alumni newsletters, parents newsletters, etc.
- 11) Volunteer to do community service work for the campus.
- 12) Have members run/apply for leadership positions within the Greek community and on campus.
- 13) Follow campus policies. If you're not sure about a policy - ask!
- 14) Always demonstrate honesty, integrity and cooperation.
- 15) Take time to show appreciation/recognition to campus personnel.
- 16) Maintain your chapter house and show consideration to your neighbors.
- 17) Give appropriate feedback (positive or negative).
- 18) Get (and use) a faculty advisor.
- 19) Think about the messages your signs, T-shirts, web sites, and actions send to the faculty and administrators.
- 20) Live by your creed.

20 Things to Build Good Relations with your Neighbors

- 1) Introduce yourself to every neighbor on your immediate borders.
- 2) Be sure to pick up your yard after an event at a chapter house.
- 3) Be sure to pick up your neighbor's yard after an event.
- 4) Assure neighbors that your members will keep a watchful eye on their property during their absence.
- 5) Always keep your yard and your neighbors neat and picked up.
- 6) Send your neighbors a greeting card on special occasions like holidays, birthdays, etc.
- 7) Send your neighbors a holiday turkey or ham.
- 8) Invite neighbors to special functions like Founders' or Parents' Day. Do not feel you have to invite them to your "best party."
- 9) Always be the first around to shovel snow off your driveway and sidewalk; then shovel your neighbors.
- 10) Park only in designated chapter spaces.
- 11) Always keep noise at an acceptable, low level especially late at night.
- 12) Keep neighbors informed of various activities the chapter has planned. Emphasize philanthropic events.
- 13) When appropriate, ask neighbors for advice, opinions.
- 14) The chapter president should introduce themselves and maintain an excellent relationship with the local chief of police.
- 15) Maintain a good relationship with the university Greek advisors; they are your liaison to the community.
- 16) Plan and advertise community projects that directly affect your neighbors.
- 17) If and when neighbors complain be patient, courteous and polite.
- 18) Have responsible and sober members at chapter social functions.
- 19) As neighbors move in or leave the area, be the first to offer assistance.
- 20) Always remember building and maintaining good public relations is contingent upon individual members' actions. Fair or not, one inadvertent or stupid move by a member, or group of members, is attributed to the entire chapter and hence all Greeks. We all have as part of our rituals statements reminding us to never dishonor nor embarrass our Greek letters' true meaning.

Ideas for your Chapter:

- 1) Hold a chapter retreat at the beginning of each term.
- 2) Arrange for a central press release service for new members, neophytes, officers of your chapter.
- 3) Establish a hospitality/host/hostess committee. Members should meet guests and alumnae at the door, introduce guests to members, and perform other acts of courtesy.
- 4) Ask a communication/speech professor to speak to the members about “body language” and how it can affect communication.
- 5) Establish a “secret brother/sister” program.
- 6) Sponsor study skills sessions
- 7) Plan midterm and final exam study breaks with popcorn, cookies, fruit and drinks, or go out for ice cream.
- 8) Keep members informed of the latest fashions or cosmetics/product by having special interest chapter programs.
- 9) Establish an annual Brotherhood/Sisterhood Award to be presented on Founders Day.
- 10) Maintain colorful and exciting bulletin boards by listing current and pertinent information.
- 11) Sponsor a “Safe Ride” program so that intoxicated brothers/sisters and/or guests have a safe ride home.
- 12) Invite local businesspersons to speak with seniors about the job market.
- 13) Invite Career Services to the chapter to instruct members on interviewing skills, resume writing, etc.
- 14) Submit annual honors and activities list (along with pictures) to your Inter/National magazine to receive recognition for individual members at an international level.
- 15) Invite a local financial manager to talk to the members about saving money, credit cards, budgeting skills, etc.
- 16) Hold a seminar in income tax preparation for members.
- 17) Have a dinner exchange program with fraternities and sororities.
- 18) Invite a local insurance man to speak in general terms about what to look for in buying insurance.
- 19) Hold workshops by Counseling Services on time and stress management, motivation, etc.
- 20) Encourage the activities chairperson to have an activities banquet/dinner where members receive recognition for their accomplishments within the chapter, on campus or within the community. Give small plaques, gifts or certificates. This could be combined with the scholarship banquet, if time is limited.
- 21) Have a suggestion box for ideas to make living in the house more enjoyable.
- 22) Display the chapter’s term or semester calendar in an appropriate place. Members need to know dates in order to schedule working hours, home visits, etc.
- 23) Install a phone with an answering machine or set up a screen name on instant messenger for the sole purpose of giving chapter information (dates, times, events) to out-of-house members.
- 24) Give flowers, cards, balloons to members who are ill.
- 25) Appoint a spirit or sunshine committee to keep members excited and interested in recruitment events and other chapter interests.

- 26) Have a sweetheart dinner for Valentine's Day (each member invites a guest).
- 27) Have a "Chapter Member of the Month" award. Announce the winner monthly, and make a fun recognition pillow that can be passed on. Put her name on a bulletin board with a current picture and reasons why she was chosen. The recipient could be a new member too.
- 28) Along with officer training, discuss communication skills and how to present reports or announcements effectively.
- 29) Publish a chapter directory. Include pictures, hometowns and other interesting information.
- 30) Have scheduled room checks, especially if the chapter has visitation hours in living areas.
- 31) Have a chapter merit point system.
- 32) Have a recognition bulletin board which has space to honor seniors, new members, individual accomplishments, etc.
- 33) To honor birthdays of members give them cards, love notes, balloons or candy. Have a birthday cake once a month for all birthdays during that month. Remember summer birthdays, too.
- 34) Publish a chapter newsletter with member biographies ("get to know" type articles), recognition section and publicity for chapter activities.
- 35) Take a brother/sister to lunch, or treat him/her to a Coke or ice cream cone.
- 36) Publicize chapter activities through posters, newspapers, newsletters, skits, bulletin boards. Get the membership excited about chapter events.
- 37) Establish an affiliation program for those chapter members who have transferred to your school.
- 38) Research the chapter's history by calling alumnae. Begin creating chapter pride through past achievements and traditions.
- 39) Hold frequent fireside chats or gavel passings where members share their thoughts and feelings.
- 40) Have a prize drawing for bills paid on time.
- 41) Place motivational signs in the house.
- 42) Make motivational cards for members. (Good Job, Great Work, Thanks, Congrats, Get Well, Miss You, Sorry, etc.)
- 43) Have a phone etiquette informational session. Then schedule all members for phone duty.
- 44) Have Chapter Days once a week where members wear letters on campus.
- 45) Dress nicely for meetings and wear new member pins or badges. Enforce proper dress for chapter meetings. Enforce the wearing of badges and new member pins at formal meetings.
- 46) Recognize members' accomplishments by placing ads in the campus newspaper.
- 47) Post chapter minutes for members who had to miss a meeting.
- 48) Have rewards for members who have the cleanest rooms.
- 49) Have a designated driver program for the chapter. Brothers/Sisters sign up for weekend nights when they will give any sister a ride home for any reason, if called.
- 50) Have well planned Initiations.
- 51) Put the names of new members and members in the campus newspaper through the personal column.
- 52) Give Chapter Awards to brothers/sisters who have gone out of their way to help a sister during the week.

- 53) Develop an awards program for outstanding achievements of members.
- 54) ELIMINATE ALL HAZING!
- 55) Establish house director etiquette. He/She should be treated as one would treat the father/mother of a best friend. The house director should always be consulted well in advance about plans for parties and dinners. Little courtesies during the year should be shown (birthday, a flower occasionally for his/her room, an escort to church, an invitation to a program). She is the official host/hostess in the dining room and should be escorted to his/her place and be the first to enter the dining room. All entering late should go to him/her upon entering the room to apologize for being late. All leaving early should go to him/her and ask permission to leave.
- 56) Give out a public relations award each month to a member who displayed good manners in his/her day-to-day living. Recognize his/her efforts by giving him/her an ice cream certificate, a dinner certificate or movie certificates. Be selective.
- 57) Have a chapter "work day" when every member helps clean the chapter house - closets, silver, supply cupboards, chapter room, grounds.
- 58) Buy an etiquette book for the chapter and have it available for members.
- 59) Have a Thanksgiving dinner where flowers and candles are used.
- 60) Have your house director present a table etiquette program.
- 61) Develop a peer support group where members with like challenges meet once a week to work through their difficulties and share their feelings in a non-judgmental environment.
- 62) Give small chapter memento gifts to thank outside speakers for coming to the chapter (notepaper, pen, pencil, plastic cup).
- 63) Have a super brother/sister program where members place the names of super brothers/sisters into a basket. At each meeting all the super brothers/sisters names are read and a super brother/sister is chosen. He/She is then given the brother/sister plant to love and care for that week as he/she has loved and cared for his/her brothers/sisters.
- 64) Start a Brother/Sister Love Book. The fabric covered blank book is given to a member who has shown brotherhood/sisterhood during the month. The chosen brother/sister keeps it for the month and when he/she decides to whom to pass it on, he/she writes a poem or letter to that brother/sister. It is passed on at the end of a chapter meeting.
- 65) Have theme night dinners. Example: At Halloween, have members pick a piece of hard candy out of a jack-o-lantern. They then sit at the table that displays that type of candy. Great mixer.
- 66) Give a small gift to the best dressed member during a formal chapter meeting.
- 67) Give the retiring president a small gift from the membership as a thank-you for representing the chapter.
- 68) Establish permanent awards for the chapter - outstanding member in the different classes (i.e. "Best Brother/Sister," "Leadership," "Inspiration," "Press" award - a non-officer who is committed to promoting your chapter.)
- 69) Present a chapter "Athlete of the Week" award to the brother/sister who helped the most in a recent intramural game or sporting event. This could be given during the Activities Banquet or chapter meeting.

- 70) Recognize housing staff by asking them to dinner or giving them a small gift, especially during the holidays. Birthday cards are fun, too.
- 71) Officers or chairpersons should thank brothers/sisters for their extra help after a major event like Homecoming, parents Weekend, Founders Day. A note in their mailboxes is nice.
- 72) Have a phone committee or a way to communicate with members when an event is cancelled or some change has occurred.
- 73) Have “guest night dinners” for members to invite their favorite person.
- 74) Encourage members to invite their real brothers/sisters to the chapter house for a dinner or a weekend.
- 75) Encourage out-of-house members to come by often. Have an area for them to store their things or get small lockers for them. It’s great to have a change of clothes or toothbrush at the house.
- 76) Have a quiet place for out-of-house members to study.
- 77) Establish a monthly “Happy Face” award for the brother/sister who smiled the most during the past month. Give him/her a big cookie with a happy face.
- 78) Using the book 14,000 Things to be Happy About, post a list of the things that make your chapter members happy in their daily lives.
- 79) Praise members who display good manners by having the standards chairperson put a silver spoon (cardboard covered with aluminum foil) with a bow on it in members’ mailboxes. Have members turn in names or have committee members select recipients.
- 80) Use a bulletin board for “thank yous.” Decorate it with bright colors, using small shapes of your mascots, crest, etc. Give it a creative title and remove notes at the end of each week. For example: “Thanks, Sue for taking me to the Circle K meeting for donuts...I was starved! Love, your Roomie.”
- 81) Before Initiation elect the members who most represent the Four Founders. Have the ritual chairperson read about each woman before the election.
- 82) Surprise a brother/sister by decorating his/her door on his/her birthday or for a special achievement.

Ideas for your chapter to work with your Inter/National Headquarters:

- 1) Send the regional coordinator a birthday, anniversary and holiday card.
- 2) Send holiday cards to Inter/National Council.
- 3) Become “pen pals” with another member from another chapter.
- 4) Send congratulatory notes to new chapters and colonies.
- 5) Give visiting Inter/National officers a small gift of flowers, fruit basket, or crackers and cheese during their visits to the chapter.
- 6) Have a welcome banner or poster for visiting Inter/National officers.
- 7) Prepare a list of the chapter officers and their phone numbers for visiting officers.
- 8) Visit other chapters when traveling.
- 9) Request assistance from Inter/National officers regarding special needs. They are there to assist your chapter.
- 10) Send the other members of your regional team a holiday card.
- 11) Invite any local international officers living in the area to Founders Day, Initiation or other special events.
- 12) Order and use Inter/National Headquarter resources (video tapes, DVDs, manuals, brochures).
- 13) Support any and all Inter/National public relations events or projects.
- 14) Work toward Inter/National awards.
- 15) Encourage members to apply for the collegiate leadership consultant position.
- 16) Send “In Celebration” donations to your Inter/National Foundation for birthdays, new jobs or engagements.
- 17) Support the Foundation by contributing an annual gift.
- 18) Order your organizations jewelry through your Inter/National organizations official jeweler.
- 19) Initiate new members (mothers, special friends) through the annual alumnae initiate program.
- 20) Encourage members to notify Inter/National Headquarters when they have a change of address.
- 21) Plan a fun activity, such as a picnic, with a nearby chapter.

- 26) Look for and visit with brothers/sisters attending regional IFC/NPHC/PHC conferences.
- 27) Correspond with chapters in your region and exchange pictures, newsletters, names of members; invite members to visit.
- 28) Have a T-shirt exchange with another chapter. Send leftover event T-shirts to each other and give them as awards, gifts or prizes.
- 29) Send holiday cards to chapters in your region.
- 30) Send “welcome aboard” notes to the chapter’s new regional coordinator and other new members of your chapter’s regional team.
- 31) Send congratulatory notes to new chapters.
- 32) Send a Founders Day contribution to your Inter/National organization.
- 33) Ask area Inter/National officers to present a chapter program on your Inter/National organization.
- 34) Encourage as many members as possible to go to your organization’s Conventions.

Ideas for your chapter to work with Greek Life/IFC/NPHC/PHC

- 1) Promote pride in being Greek.
- 2) Encourage IFC/NPHC/PHC participation and cooperation.
- 3) Have dinner exchanges with other sororities and fraternities.
- 4) Provide assistance during emergencies (i.e. assist members or a chapter whose house burned down).
- 5) Positive and cooperative attitude at IFC/NPHC/PHC meetings and functions.
- 6) Show class when dealing with fraternities or sororities; class is ALWAYS in style. (i.e. serenades: coat and tie, flowers, no drinking songs, etc.)
- 7) Sponsor a study skills program for all of your IFC/NPHC/PHC member chapters.
- 8) Host fraternity/sorority “officer roundtables” to meet and discuss ideas, concerns, etc. (tables are divided by chapter offices).
- 9) Host an open house for other Greeks.
- 10) Invite other Greeks to open to the public chapter programs, especially new members.
- 11) Have each new member invite someone he/she met during recruitment (who pledged another fraternity/sorority) to a dessert event soon after recruitment. If new members get to know each other, communication will be easier each year as they progress through college.
- 12) Promote dry functions with fraternities and sororities.
- 13) Host a “House Director Appreciation Dinner” and invite all house directors on campus. Assign a host/hostess to each one.
- 14) Display congratulatory banners or signs wishing other chapters good luck on their finals, recruitment, Greek Week, etc.
- 15) Take balloons, candy or flowers to fraternities/sororities before recruitment to wish them luck.
- 16) Send holiday cards to other Greek chapters on campus. Do the same for other campus organizations.
- 17) Carve pumpkins for fraternities/sororities at Halloween.
- 18) Make door decorations for fraternities/sororities on St. Valentine’s Day, St. Patrick’s Day, etc.
- 19) Send notes of congratulation or appreciation and flowers on Founder’s Days for other fraternities and sororities.
- 20) Select a “Chapter Sweetheart of the Month” and present him/her with flowers and candy.
- 21) Organize a bridge event, tea or dessert for all the Greek house directors.
- 22) Give cookies or candy to other Greeks as a welcome back gesture.
- 23) Sponsor a picnic with your Greek neighbors.
- 24) Be positive in comments about all Greek groups.
- 25) Submit articles and information about the chapter to the campus Greek newspaper.
- 26) Regularly invite the Greek advisor to dinner or to a special chapter event.
- 27) Volunteer to work in the Greek Life office or to host/hostess a meeting.
- 28) Wash car windows in a fraternity or sorority parking lot and leave notes that say “Courtesy of your chapter.”
- 29) Take donuts to a fraternity or sorority.
- 30) After working with a fraternity or sorority on an event, surprise the men or women with a “thank you” dinner. Remember to let someone at the fraternity or sorority know it will be a surprise.
- 31) Give the sorority with the highest GPA a “smarty plant” for its house.
- 32) Send congratulatory notes to the winners of Greek awards.
- 33) Design and sell IFC/NPHC/PHC T-shirts. They promote the Greek system.
- 34) Promote dry functions and the development of a Greek alcohol policy.

- 35) Invite a sorority or fraternity to attend an open to the public chapter program, and have dessert or go out for ice cream afterward.
- 36) Help plan a Faculty Appreciation Month during the school year. IFC/PHC/NPHC could host one planned event each week of the month and each sorority could hold one event separately during the month. Chapters with a large Greek community could combine when hosting events.
- 37) Invite chapter presidents to dinner – one or two at a time or as a group. Introduce them.
- 38) Put personals in the campus newspaper to thank or congratulate other Greek groups.
- 39) Senior Appreciation Flowers – during your chapter’s Senior Celebration Week, spread the appreciation campus-wide by sending flowers to other fraternities or sororities to honor their seniors also.
- 40) Wear “GO GREEK” buttons.
- 41) Support your local Alumnae IFC/NPHC/PHC by attending teas, luncheons, informational events for incoming students or selling/buying raffle tickets for scholarships.
- 42) Invite the Greek advisor to speak about National Panhellenic Conference, National Pan-Hellenic Council, North-American Interfraternity Conference or Greek issues.
- 43) Strive to have chapter members serve as IFC/PHC/NPHC officers.
- 44) Encourage members to attend IFC/NPHC/PHC meetings.
- 45) Sponsor a date rape workshop for Greeks (use campus or community resources).
- 46) Purchase advertising space in the campus newspaper to help promote the Greek System and Gamma your chapter; advertise philanthropic projects.
- 47) Sponsor seminars, workshops or retreats on topics of mutual interest or benefit.
- 48) Create a portfolio of chapter accomplishments to be used when looking for sponsorships.
- 49) Organize and publish a Greek directory.
- 50) Publish newsletters, press releases, etc.
- 51) Participate in fraternity/sorority exchanges, serenades, etc.
- 52) Sponsor a tutorial program for Greeks.
- 53) Promote the development of a prank and raid policy.
- 54) Have a chapter open house (tour) for sororities/fraternities.
- 55) Write articles for the university/college alumni magazine about accomplishments of your chapter and the Greek system.
- 56) Assist in developing an IFC/NPHC/PHC speakers bureau.
- 57) “Plant-a-Tree-a-Year” for the Greek garden – environmental improvement on campus.
- 58) Sponsor a Greek Faculty Person of the Year Award.
- 59) Send congratulatory notes to newly elected officers in sororities and fraternities.
- 60) Along with a fraternity, “adopt” an athlete. Support her/him at meets on campus and encourage her/him in other competitions. This could be done for a sport without widespread support.
- 61) Make sunglasses out of cardboard, write “Have a Great Spring Break” on them, and deliver to other Greeks before vacation.
- 62) Take animal crackers to other sororities or fraternities and make a sign that says, “Have a grrrrreat recruitment!” This could be used on other occasions too.
- 63) Sponsor a scholarship chairperson’s workshop for all sororities/fraternities.
- 64) Join a fraternity/sorority in sponsoring a softball tournament for the city’s youth. Provide the umpires, the score keepers, handouts, trophies and prizes.
- 65) Participate in Homecoming activities with other Greeks.
- 66) Support other Greek philanthropies with a small donation.
- 67) Who has the best cook? Have a bake-off competition among all the sorority and fraternity cooks. Ask the local newspaper food editor to judge the entries. Award the winning cook dinner for two at a restaurant in town.

- 68) Host a Greek barbecue.
