Greetings Musicians

This Fall I will offer workshops that emphasize the library needs for performance studies. Although many of the skills students learn from academic coursework are transferrable, this workshop offers some tricks for searching the catalog and some little known treats for performers in the library's collections. I hope you will encourage students to attend… or attend yourself.

Opera on DVD

Operas new and old, Performances new and old, Stars new and old…. Each opera production is a unique artistic statement, with composers, performers, set designers and directors constantly seeking to expand the expressive potential of the genre. Recent acquisitions of operas on DVD include:

- Mozart: New DVDs include six Drottningholm Palace Theatre productions, The Magic Flute for Children, Ingmar Bergman’s Magic Flute (in Swedish), and performances that had previously been available only on VHS tape.
- Modern Operas: New operas and first video releases of twentieth-century operas include John Adams’s The Death of Klinghoffer, which (in)famously almost wasn’t performed at the Met; Adés’s The Tempest, based on the Shakespeare play; Adams’s El Niño, Henze’s Der Junge Lord; Oliveros’s Njinga the Queen King; Rihm’s Dionysos;

New DVDs of timeless performances include:

- Bizet: Carmen (Glyndebourne, 2002)
- Donizetti: Maria Stuarda (Metropolitan Opera, 2012)
- Gounod: Roméo et Juliette (Salzburg, 2008)
- Poulenc: Dialogues des Carmélites (Milan, 2004)
- Puccini: Turandot (Vienna, 1983)
- Purcell: The Fairy Queen (Glyndebourne, 2009)
- Rameau: Hippolyte et Aricie (Glyndebourne, 2013)
- Tchaikovsky: Eugene Onegin (Metropolitan Opera, 2013)
- Wagner: Flying Dutchman (Bayreuth, 1985)
- Wagner: Lohengrin (Munich, 2009)

Hindemith’s Ludi Leonum

Paul Hindemith was one of the most famous 20th Century composers but like other composers, he was also gifted in the visual arts.

For his wife’s birthday during Leo, the sign of the lion, he hand-colored a copy of his famous counterpoint exercises, Ludus Tonalis, with lions throughout. See them in the full-color facsimile edition: M 25 H5 L8 1994

The Green Pastures
DVD Video 11923
A classic 1936 movie featuring the Hall Johnson Choir and an all-black cast. The “green pastures” are various views of Heaven, as envisioned by African-Americans in the South.

Traviata et nous
(Becoming Traviata, 2012)
DVD Video 11828
This DVD follows soprano superstar Natalie Dessay as she prepares the role of Violetta for performance.

Elvis Found Alive
DVD Video 11934
This mockumentary biopic about the late great King seamlessly blends fact and fiction. Told in the first person by “Elvis” in Witness Protection, the film ties Elvis’s life story to that of his hero, Junior Captain America, up to his mythological heroics with the FBI.
