LAMBDA ALPHA NATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP

LAMBDA ALPHA GRADUATE OVERSEAS RESEARCH GRANT

Dear Faculty Sponsor:

We are taking this opportunity to include the guideline for the $5,000 annual award to a senior, and graduate overseas research grants, with the later-than-usual mailing of the Lambda Alpha Annual Newsletter.

I particularly encourage new chapters, and the many chapters that have not participated in the past, to submit nominees. These are limited and closed competition with a sizable award. A well-qualified candidate has a reasonable chance to win. In order to ensure a quality set of candidates, potential applicants will be allowed to join the honorary, but must be accepted by their chapter by submitting their faculty sponsor signed membership card and $25 fee before the application deadline of March 1, 2012.

Yours truly,

B.K. Swartz, Jr., Ph.D., National Executive Secretary

P.S. Please remember to use the order form in the back of the Annual Newsletter to order the satin honor stoles and the Cloisonné tie tack pins early (March) to meet your graduation day.

NATIONAL LAMBDA ALPHA SCHOLARSHIP

The Lambda Alpha National Scholarship is to be awarded to a *TRUE graduating senior (summer 2012) majoring in anthropology. Your chapter may send forward only ONE candidate for this award. The winner of the scholarship will be announced in early May, 2012.

The chapter faculty sponsor of the scholarship candidate must forward to the National Office before the March 1st deadline the following materials:

1. Letter of nomination from the department or appropriate academic unit – this letter must specify to which scholarship the candidate is applying.
2. Curriculum vita.
3. A statement, on page 3, signed by the applicant, giving permission to the National Executive Council to view submitted transcripts.
4. Transcripts of all undergraduate grades.
5. Two supporting letters of recommendation – one must be from a professional anthropologist.
6. A statement of future professional plans.
7. Five (5) copies (printed front-to-back, NO staples, with no covers/folders) for the National Executive Council of the applicant's professional writing (e.g. a publication or course paper). Co-authored publications and contract archaeological reports are not acceptable. The submission should be no more than "article length". The purpose is to evaluate formal writing skill, not to demonstrate research productivity. Writing exhibits should be accompanied by a disk copy in Microsoft Word or rich text format (.rtf). If the essay sample of the winning application is not published or copyrighted, the Lambda Alpha Journal reserves the option to publish the material as an article in an upcoming issue – include the signed statement, page 3, granting permission to publish.

*An applicant is considered an eligible graduating senior for purposes of competing for the National Lambda Alpha Scholarship Award if she/he has acquired formal senior status since the last competition or if she/he competes as an ongoing senior, but must then graduate by the end of the academic year. An applicant can compete only once for the award.

LAMBDA ALPHA GRADUATE OVERSEAS RESEARCH GRANT

The Graduate Research Grant is designed to encourage overseas thesis field research. Request for financial support for travel, basic field equipment, and on-location labor costs would be favored. No indirect expenses can be charged from the grant. The grant award, unlike the scholarship, would be variable - ranging from $2,000 to $6,000. The winner(s) of the competition will be announced in early May, 2012.

Applicants must:

1. Be a member of Lambda Alpha.
2. Be enrolled in the graduate program in their department for at least one academic year.
3. Have selected their thesis advisor.
4. Have formally formed thesis or dissertation on an anthropological topic
5. Must conduct the research overseas.
6. Have their financial advisor agree to be responsible for the dispersal of the grant funds to the student, possibly in conjunction with the school's research office.

Candidates must forward to the National Office before the March 1st deadline the following materials:

1. A letter of nomination and support.
2. A statement of financial responsibility from either their thesis advisor or thesis committee chairman containing their name and mailing address – use attached form. STATEFINRESP
3. Submit five (5) copies (printed front-to-back, NO staples, without cover/folder) for the National Executive Council of their thesis/dissertation proposal, including an itemized budget.
