Richard Harris, history aficionado: "The 20s- More than flappers, prohibition and Babe Ruth: a decade of tremendous change"

Visions of speakeasies, Babe Ruth, easy money and the Charleston come to mind. But like all decades, the 20's were very complex and sowed the seeds for the depression. Special emphasis will be given to 1927, the year of Lindberg's triumph, Babe Ruth's 60 homers, the trial of the century and the first big "Talkie movie. We will look at Harding, Coolidge and Hoover as well.
