Fall is usually a busy time in the Architecture Library and this semester is no exception! In addition to new books and videos, new classes, and new students, this semester we welcomed a new staff member: Jackie Sciscoe, who is now the Architecture Library Coordinator. Jackie comes to us from Bracken Library, where she worked in the Business Support Services. Jackie can be reached at 765-285-5857 or jsciscoe@bsu.edu for questions about course reserves, e-reserves, checked-out library materials, and more. If you haven’t already met Jackie, stop by and say hi next time you are in the library!

We have a lot of exciting things happening in the archives this semester, but chief among them is the new Archives Research Award that will be given jointly by the University Libraries and the College of Architecture and Planning to an undergraduate or graduate student who creates an academic project using our resources. Some students spend a lot of time conducting archival research, and this award will serve to honor their accomplishments. It will be given annually at the CAP Spring Award Celebration. Read more below about how you can encourage students to submit their work to be considered for this award.
archival research, but it is hoped that it will also serve to attract and motivate those students who have an interest in this type of research.”

Any Ball State University undergraduate or graduate student studying Architecture, Landscape Architecture, Urban Planning, Urban Design, or Historic Preservation is eligible to receive this award. Since the academic project for which students will be considered for the award can be a creative project as well as a traditional writing project, we hope to receive a wide range of submissions that span across all of the disciplines here at the college.

Please encourage your students to apply for this exciting new award. The members of the award committee are very much looking forward to seeing how students have been using the collections. Entry forms are available in the archives and on our website at http://bit.ly/1aBKjVs. The deadline to apply is March 1st.

Looking for More Info? We’ve Got the Book/DVD/Article for You!

By Amy Trendler, Architecture Librarian

Attending lectures, symposia, and exhibits in the College of Architecture and Planning can spark an interest in learning more about a subject. The library can help with that! For example:

Interested in finding out more about Daniel Libeskind following his November 4 lecture on campus? Check out:

DVD VIDEO 11341
Ground Zero supertower [DVD]
Randall, Terri, producer, director.

NA737.L46 A35 2008
Counterpoint : Daniel Libeskind in conversation with Paul Goldberger

For articles on the architect and his work, search for “Daniel Libeskind” in the Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals.

Did you catch Timothy Liddy’s talk on golf courses at the Alumni Symposium? You might be interested in:

DVD VIDEO 11298
Golf’s grand design [DVD]
Grant, John, writer, producer, director.

GV975 .G584 2002
Classic golf hole design : using the greatest holes as inspiration for modern courses
Graves, Robert Muir.

For related articles, see Business Source Premier, which includes several urban planning journals.

Were you at the APA Indiana fall conference on “Planning for Healthy Communities” held here at Ball State? Then you may want to check out:

HC110.E5 J29 2012
Designing healthy communities
Jackson, Richard.

DVD VIDEO 9560
Designing healthy communities [DVD]

For related articles, see Business Source Premier, which includes several urban planning journals.

---

Spotlight on: Cardinal Scholar

What is Cardinal Scholar?
The Ball State University Institutional Repository, Cardinal Scholar http://cardinalscholar.bsu.edu, provides access to scholarly works produced at Ball State; serves as the online repository for institutional records; promotes Ball State intellectual capital to a worldwide audience; and advances scholarly communication.

What Can I Deposit?
- Articles, preprints, web-based exhibits, presentations, essays, working papers, term papers, conference papers, technical reports, administrative reports, meeting minutes, etc.
- Departmental reports, electronic educational assets, meeting minutes, newsletters, annual reports, promotional materials, presentations, programs, lecture materials, and other electronic records produced by university offices and departments
- Data sets (GIS, scientific, statistical, demographic, etc.), computer programs and/or code, multimedia objects

Why Contribute?
You should deposit your work in Cardinal Scholar in order to make it as visible and accessible as possible, and to increase the usage, impact, and citation of your work. Deposit maximizes the benefits to you and to Ball State University in terms of status, accolades, remuneration, and grant revenue.

For More Information
Contact Archives and Special Collections at 765-285-5078 or libarchives@bsu.edu.