

PRIVACY RESTRICTION

You should carefully consider the consequences of your decision to place this restriction on your record. Inquiries for such “public information” comes from a variety of sources, including parents, friends, prospective employers, graduate schools, honor societies, licensing agencies, government agencies, and the news media. With a privacy restriction on your record, the University will not release your telephone number or address to a family member trying to notify you of a serious illness or crisis in the family. A prospective employer who might be seeking to verify your major or degree will be denied this information.

THIS RESTRICTION WILL REMAIN IN EFFECT UNTIL YOU NOTIFY THIS OFFICE IN WRITING TO REMOVE THE RESTRICTION.
