

Position/title	Description	Training	Grad school requirements	Licensure requirements	Job prospects	Salary range
Clinical Psychologist	Work with individuals with psychological disturbance. Perform testing, therapy, research, supervision, and administration.	Ph.D. Psy.D.	Ph.D.—highly competitive (~1/10) Need BA or BS in Psych, good GRE scores, and research experience Psy.D.—less competitive (~1/3) M.A.—less competitive (~1/3)	Doctoral degree, 1-year internship, licensure exams, and 2000 hours post-doctoral internship.	Fair to good—High graduation rates at Psy.D. programs have flooded the markets to some extent	$35-85,000
Counseling Psychologist	Work with normal or moderately impaired clients. Focus on counseling, teaching, research, and administration.	Ph.D.	Ph.D.—highly competitive (~1/9) Need BA or BS in related field, good GRE scores, and applied experience	Doctoral degree, 1-year internship, licensure exams, and 2000 hours post-doctoral internship.	Fair to good—High graduation rates at Psy.D. programs have flooded the markets to some extent	$35-75,000
Psychotherapist	Provides counseling or therapy to normal or moderately impaired clients.	B.A. M.A. M.S.W.	M.A./MSW—less competitive (~1/3), open to persons with varied backgrounds	Master's degree, licensure exams, and 1-2 years post degree experience	Good to excellent—growing need in community mental health	$25-$55,000
Community Psychologist	Develops and runs programs for rehabilitation, guidance, and mental health in community settings	M.A. M.S.W. Ph.D.	M.A./MSW—less competitive (~1/3), open to persons with varied backgrounds Ph.D.—moderately competitive (~1/4)	Licensure requirements depend upon specific duties	Good—growing focus on community intervention and prevention	$25-$55,000
Research Psychologist	Works for a university, private industry, or government developing and performing research programs	M.A. M.S. Ph.D.	M.A./M.S.—less competitive (~1/3)	Licensure typically not required	Good—steady employment in government and industry	$40-75,000
Health or Medical Psychologists	Work in research or medical settings to assess the relationship between psychological factors and physical health.	Ph.D.	Ph.D.—highly competitive (~1/10) Need BA or BS in Psych or health science, good GRE scores, and some experience	Doctoral degree, 1-year internship, licensure exams, and 2000 hours post-doctoral internship.	Excellent—increased employment in hospitals, insurance, and private industry	$40-90,000

Forensic Psychologist	Work in criminal justice, prisons, and legal settings	Ph.D. Psy.D.	Ph.D.—highly competitive (~1/10) Need BA or BS in Psych or criminal justice, good GRE scores, and research experience	Doctoral degree, 1-year internship, licensure exams, and 2000 hours post-doctoral internship	Good—steady employment in the prison system	$50-120,000
I/O Psychologist	Work in private industry and government assessing workplace functioning and developing organizational interventions (e.g. round robin survey, executive coaching, restructuring, etc.)	M.A. Ph.D.	M.A.—less competitive Ph.D.—highly competitive (~1/10) Need degree in business or social psych, good GRE scores, and some workplace experience	No licensure required	Excellent—growing job prospects in private industry and consulting	$50-150,000
School Psychologist	Work within the educational system to increase the intellectual, social, and emotional development of children. May perform assessment, evaluate special programs, consult with teachers and parents, or help students with adjustment issues.	M.A. Ed.D.	M.A.—less competitive Ed.D.—more competitive (~1/6) Need degree in education or counseling psych, good GRE scores, and some experience in the school system	Certification requirements vary by state but may include licensure exam and internship.	Good—steady employment in school sector	$40-80,000
Social Worker	Provides case management and administrative services to a select population. Can provide either therapy type services (clinical social work) or administrative services.	MSW	MSW—less competitive (~1/3) open to various majors	Master's degree, licensure exams, and 1-2 years experience	Excellent—continuing need in community mental health and government sectors	$35-$55,000
Sport Psychologist	Provides assessment, interventions and training programs for professional and school athletes	Ph.D. Psy.D. Ed.D.	Post doctoral certification courses are not competitive at all	Post doctoral training, practicum, and licensure exam	Fair to good—continued need for consulting in colleges and universities	$50-100,000
Psychometrician	Provides assessments, interprets test results, writes test reports, makes diagnoses, and formulates treatment recommendations for moderately to severely impaired client population.	Ph.D. Psy.D. Ed.D.	Ph.D.—highly competitive (~1/10) Need BA or BS in Psych, good GRE scores, and research experience Psy.D.—less competitive (~1/3) Ed.D.—moderately competitive (~1/6)	Doctoral degree, 1-year internship, licensure exams, and 2000 hours post-doctoral internship.	Good—Psychological examiners are employed with government, military, private industry, hospitals, and schools	$60-120,000