History of Fraternities and Sororities at Ball State

Indiana Normal School and College of Applied Science was founded in 1905. Greek-lettered organizations were founded during this time, but historical records do not offer many details. However, records did state that in 1907, the president, Francis M. Ingler, decreed all fraternities to be disbanded. The cause behind this decree was the hijinks of Phi Sigma Theta having a cow roaming through their fraternity house.

After the community's efforts to sustain a small teacher-training school failed, the Ball brothers purchased the land and buildings of the defunct institution and donated them to the State of Indiana. This gift became the Indiana State Normal School Eastern Division, which opened on April 4, 1918.

Within a year of the school being founded the first Greek organization was established: the Navajo social club which would later become Lambda Chi Alpha in 1951. With the inaccuracy of records prior to the Navajo social clubs founding, Ball State University celebrates 1919 as the founding year for the Greek community at Ball State. The Navajo social club specifically did not use 'fraternity' in their name since they remembered the old injunction by President Ingler in 1907.

Also in 1919, the Girls Club was started, which followed the tradition of the organization at Indiana State Normal School in Terre Haute. All girls were eligible to be a member and local sororities started in sections of the club beginning with Alpha sorority in 1920, which later became Alpha Chi Omega.

Ball State did not have a large contingent of national organizations until the mid 1950s when many of the local organizations affiliated with national fraternities and sororities.

In 1946, Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. was established as the first African-American sorority at Ball State University and in 1953, the first African-American fraternity, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc, was founded. The remaining members of the Divine Nine begin to establish chapters over the next 50 years with Iota Phi Theta colonizing in 2001.

Gamma Phi Omega International Sorority, Inc. became the first Latina sorority at Ball State University when the local chapter was established on September 10, 1994.

In 1957, Woodworth Complex opened and provided eight sorority suites. Records listed the names of five current sororities that moved into the suites: Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta and Pi Beta Phi. The tradition of sorority suites was changed in January 2008 when four sororities relocated to university owned houses on Riverside Ave. for the first time.

Throughout the community's history 47 national and international Greek organization chapters have called Ball State University home. Currently there are 13 fraternities and 12 sororities active on campus:

Community Overview

The Ball State University Greek community is comprised of over 1200 members belonging to 25 national and international fraternities and sororities. With almost 100 years of traditions and history, fraternities and sororities have contributed to the personal development and provided a home away from home for Ball State students since 1919. Currently there are 11 Interfraternity Council (IFC) chapters, 10 Panhellenic (PHC) chapters, 3 chapters which belong to the National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) and 1 Latina sorority. Although the Latina sorority is a member of the National Association of Latino Fraternal Organizations, Inc, at Ball State they are a member of the NPHC. Eight IFC chapters and 4 PHC sororities have houses while 7 PHC sororities have a suite located in Woodworth complex. At this time no NPHC chapters have a house or suite. The community comprises just over 8% over the university undergraduate population.

Community Values Statements

Personal Growth

We realize our strengths and limitations by maximizing our potential as lifelong learners; adversity provides for opportunities for growth and reflection.

Relationships

We foster bonds of mutual respect and understanding. We recognize we are all members of a greater community and strive to assist those in need.

Individuality

The Greek experience is personalized by respecting the uniqueness of each person and each chapter. Success is achieved through the accumulation of the diverse talents and experiences we all contribute to the community.

Dedication

We continually pledge to uphold the responsibilities that come with membership in our fraternity and sorority community.

Ethical Behavior

We strive to align our actions with our values; we are cognizant of the effects of our actions and inactions as responsible citizens of the fraternity and sorority community.

My Chapter's Values

How do the chapter values align with the community values?

What does my chapter do that adds value to the community?

What does my chapter do that takes away from the value of the community?

Greek Strategic Plan Overview

At present there are over 800 colleges and universities that host Greek communities on their campuses. However, there are only a handful of institutions that have invested the necessary resources to create strategic plans for their communities. The Ball State University Greek Strategic Plan calls for the development of a larger and more vibrant Greek community. Our plan, or roadmap, will guide fraternity and sorority men and women at Ball State through 2012.

Too often goals are outlined and plans are made only to be placed in a filing cabinet somewhere. I can assure you this is not the case with the Greek community strategic plan! The plan was unveiled on March 25, 2007 and work on the 44 action items outlined for implementation during year one began immediately. Success stories and updates can be found in the Greek Strategic Plan Year One Progress Report. The efforts of many students, advisors and alumni who served on implementation teams were responsible for making the action items a reality.

By 2012, today's accomplishments will drastically change the Ball State Greek community. The Greek experience offered to Ball State students will be unmatched. Fraternity men and sorority women will be the strongest leaders at the university and will apply that knowledge to the workforce and their communities upon graduation. Greek alumni will be engaged and connected to Ball State because of their undergraduate experiences. Greek pride and university support will be evident. The progress we are making today will impact Greek men and women for decades to come.

The Office of Student Life is interested in your thoughts on the plan and the progress we are making as a community. Please let us know if you have questions or feedback.

Greek Strategic Plan - Office of Student Life Role

The Greek Strategic Plan is a road map to success for this entire Greek community. The plan was created by university administrators, students, advisors, and Greek alumni, and every member of the community and staff member in the Office of Student Life plays a critical role in achieving the goals outlined.

The office has four key responsibilities when it comes to the Greek Strategic Plan:

- Providing regular progress updates to Greek alumni and university administrators
- Educating Greek undergraduate members about the plan, its vision, its purpose, and their role in making it happen
- Providing resources, support, and guidance to Greek community leaders so that they can help fulfill the goals outlined in the plan
- Ensuring that the goals are carried out in a way that helps the Greek community grow and thrive

Want more information or updates? Contact Cara Luyster in the Office of Student Life.

Greek Strategic Plan Vision Statement

The Ball State University Greek community will provide all members an unmatched experiential learning and social experience designed to provide life long personal development opportunities and connection to the institution.

Greek Strategic Plan Mission Statement

The Ball State Greek community develops men and women academically, personally, and professionally by:

- Fostering an environment that expects, encourages, and rewards academic success;
 - Engaging alumnae and alumni to provide members with mentor relationships, professional networks, and volunteer resources;
 - Creating intentional membership, personal, and organizational development opportunities in a safe and social environment; and
 - Developing lifelong relationships with each other, the fraternal organizations, and Ball State University.

Greek Strategic Plan - Chapter President's Role

The Greek Strategic Plan outlines the potential the Greek community has for success over the next several years. But the plan is meaningless if chapters and Greek councils are not on board and supporting the plan and doing everything possible to achieve the goals outlined.

Chapter president's have four key responsibilities when it comes to the Greek Strategic Plan:

- Be knowledgeable about the vision, mission and goals outlined in the strategic plan and the goals for the current year (see page 14-16 for 2008-2009 goals) and communicate this knowledge to chapter members
- Share regular progress updates to chapter members, advisors and Greek alumni
- Become involved in the implementation of the goals in the plan which means recruiting members to serve on committee, asking questions and aligning chapter goals with the goals in the plan when appropriate
- Challenging the way it has always been done - in order to become a better community we must stop doing things that are holding us back and start doing things that are going to help us move forward

What are things you want to know about the Greek Strategic Plan? How can you get answers?

Ball State Greek Speak
Accreditation	A program which outlines the basic expectations of fraternities and sororities recognized by Ball State University. The program assists chapters in monitoring and improving their own activity and performance.
Alumna/Alumnus/Graduate Member	An initiated fraternity or sorority member who has graduated from college.
Badge	A piece of jewelry that designates affiliation to a fraternity or sorority.
Bid	A formal invitation to join a particular IFC fraternity or PHC sorority.
Call	A verbal greeting NPHC members within a fraternity/sorority give each other.
Colony	The term used to describe a new Tri Sigma group before they have become installed and receive their charter. A colony is a chapter as a new member is to an initiated sister – all rights and privileges but not yet privy to the ritual. (Colonization is the recruitment process of starting a new colony.)
Disaffiliate	The period immediately preceding recruitment and not to exceed thirty days, in which recruitment counselors and College Panhellenic officers disaffiliate from their respective sororities so as to remain neutral and impartial to the recruitment process.
Expansion	Term used when a campus invites another fraternity or sorority to open a chapter on its campus. Once the groups is formed, it is called a colony until installation.
Graduate Assistant (GA)	Student pursuing his/her master's degree and works part time in the Office of Student Life. GAs are considered staff.
Greek Alumni Newsletter	Electronic newsletter that is distributed two times per year to all Greek Ball State Alumni
Greek Weekly Newsletter	Electronic newsletter that is distributed each Monday by the Office of Student Life. It includes important dates and upcoming information.
Interfraternity Council (IFC)	The governing body of fraternities at Ball State.
Installation	The event that makes a colony a chapter.
Line	Individuals going through an intake process. However in 1990 all 9 NPHC groups prohibited "pledging" which had been characterized as excessive hazing.
Membership Intake	A period of time in which individuals learn and absorb information related to a NPHC fraternity or sorority of interest. Intake is conducted within each of the nine organizations and therefore no two NPHC organizations will conduct intake together.
Membership Recruitment	The process of meeting potential members and recruiting them to join a fraternity or sorority. Typically only used for IFC and Panhellenic organizations.
Informational	Open interest meeting for non-Greeks seeking information about Greek organizations.

Ball State Greek Speak

National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC)	The governing body for the historically African-American and Latino fraternities and sororities at Ball State.
Neophyte	Name given to most recently initiated members in an NPHC chapter.
New Member	A member of an IFC fraternity or PHC sorority who has not been

2008-2009 Office of Student Life Goals

Established based on recommendations from a consultant assessment report, the BSU Greek Strategic Plan and Office of Student Life evaluations.

- Increase the all IFC, all Panhellenic and all NPHC averages above the university equivalents. Maintain the all Greek average above the all university average.
 - Continue to offer roundtable discussions and/or training sessions for new member educators and scholarships each semester.
 - Continue collecting scholarship plans from chapters each semester and offering feedback.
 - Provide template and communicate that this will cover Greek Excellence requirement
 - Clarify purpose
 - Assist chapters with providing individual academic support to all members
 - Continue to identify ways to be transparent with chapter academic information.
 - Continue to offer midterm deficiency information to chapters and advisors. Due to ineffectiveness staff will no longer hold meetings with individuals.
 - Explore possibility of obtaining non-attending lists and providing them to chapters.
 - Eliminate the FAC academic policy and establish academic policy for all chapters.
 - Work with councils to enhance recognition for chapters and individuals.
 - Establish stronger relationships with faculty and staff.
 - Provide resources to faculty advisors to increase their knowledge of how to assist chapters.
- Strengthen partnerships with alumni and advisors and provide training and development opportunities for advisors.
 - Develop an advisor manual and/or welcome packet for new advisors.
 - Provide online training and development sessions for advisors each semester.
 - Host an annual meeting for all advisors to provide updates on the community and allow for discussion amongst advisors.
 - Host events to allow for alumni and member interaction. Proposed events include:
 - Fall senior networking and etiquette dinner
 - Spring senior networking luncheon prior to Grand Chapter
 - Examine possibility of accepting tax-deductible donations for university owned houses and suites.
 - Include advisors in Greek Excellence feedback and similar meetings.
- Increase use of assessment to drive everything we do.
 - Create an overall written assessment plan.
 - Conduct more focus groups to all for student feedback.
 - Utilize data gathered from the Greek Experience Survey to guide office decisions.
 - Expand and enhance previous year's market research.
 - Continue utilizing recruitment evaluations and focus groups.
 - Update all relevant chapter statistical information and make available online.
 - Provide self-assessment tools to chapters so that they can measure their strengths and weaknesses, with the goal of developing individual chapter strategic plans.
- Ensure Greeks have access to quality and satisfying housing options.
 - Finalize the design and cost model for the sorority houses.
 - Finalize direction of Greek Village project.

 - Pilot chapter transition retreat.
 - Assess leadership needs of all Greeks and create a Greek leadership program.
 - Continue hosting the Greek Leadership Summit.
 - Continue providing the EdHi 401a Greek leadership class.
 - Develop EdHi 401c Greek leadership class to target chapter presidents and council execs.
 - Provide programming exclusively for seniors.
 - Work with councils to provide effective and relevant programming for chapters.

- Increase membership to 1250 undergraduate members.
 - Provide intake/recruitment education programs to assist chapter with recruiting quality members.
 - Reach out to organizations needing extra attention.
 - Explore opportunities to co-sponsor events with student center programs, RHA, NRHA, etc.
 - Evaluate 2008 changes to PHC formal recruitment and update as necessary.
 - Revise IFC fraternity recruitment with specific focus on use of alcohol, content, and structure/calendar issues.
 - Evaluate and enhance referral program.
 - Work with IFC expansion committee to prepare for the arrival of Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega.
 - Evaluate Lambda Chi Alpha's expansion.
 - Finalize office expansion policy.

- Strengthen the community year-round marketing plan and consistently communicate with all constituents.
 - Re-launch the Greek life website.
 - Determine the marketing roles of the council executive officers and the office.
 - Continue providing press releases and educating local news outlets on the Greek community.
 - Revise the Greek life brand/logo.
 - Establish plan to build community and increase Greek pride.
 - Utilize the Greek Connections team to communicate consistent Greek message.
 - Explore ways to increase Greek exposure and presence in campus and local community.
 - Update the office style guide.
 - Work with Greek leaders to develop a good taste policy.
 - Continue to distribute the Greek Alumni Newsletter via email twice a year.
 - Explore options to utilize technology to provide regular updates and news about the Greek community to relevant constituents.

- Risk Reduction, Judicial and Accountability.
 - Develop a comprehensive Greek risk and crisis management education program.
 - Revise council judicial procedures and improve training.
 - Establish a tracking system to record the number of incidents or complaints reported to the Department of Public Safety regarding individual chapters
 - Work with councils to develop list of recommended third party vendors.
 - Implement and evaluate the new risk management policy.
 - Implement the new accreditation program.

Utilizing the Office of Student Life

The Office of Student Life is comprised of more than just Greek life - staff in the office also oversee the areas of leadership development, Student Voluntary Services, the Leadership Studies Minor and multicultural organization advising. There are eight staff that are completely dedicated towards working with fraternities and sororities. This is pretty unique for a campus. The staff advocate on behalf of the Greek community, provide resources and training, plan educational programs and retreats, advise members, steer the Greek Strategic Plan, communicate with national headquarters staff and volunteers and local advisors and assist with upholding the values and policies of the community.

In order to gain the most from the office, you should stop by and introduce yourself to all staff members in the office. In addition, spend time with each Greek staff member individually learning more about what he/she does and how the office can help your chapter. Consider bringing in other exec board members as well.

Utilizing Your Inter/National Headquarters and Regional Volunteers

One of the benefits of being affiliated with a inter/national fraternity or sorority is that you have an infinite amount of resources at your fingertips! The staff and volunteers that work for the national organization are available to provide you with guidance, support, resources, answers and to ensure that your chapter is doing everything it should to uphold the values and principles of your organization. Here are a few suggestions on ways to build relationships with the staff/volunteers that work with your chapter and to become knowledgeable about the resources provided:

1. Call or email your HQ to introduce yourself. Make sure they know who the president is for the Ball State chapter and that you are committed to your position.
2. Review your website for any manuals, policies, resources and contact information - make sure the appropriate materials get to each officer and chairperson.
3. Visit your HQ if possible to take a tour or conduct initiation or a meeting there.
4. Ask your HQ to assist you with putting on a chapter retreat or setting chapter goals. They have lots of resources that can make these events effective.
5. Maintain regular contact with your HQ and keep them up-to-date on the successes and challenges your chapter is facing.

Reserving Space on Campus

Use the following steps anytime you want to reserve a meeting room, gym, classroom, field or other space on campus.

1. Contact Student Center Reservations. You want talk to Charlie Scofield, the Facilities Assignment Coordinator:

- Charlie's Number: 765-285-1850
- Charlie's Email: cscofiel@bsu.edu
- Charlie's Office: Student Center Room 114
- Reserve the room online: <http://www.bsu.edu/webapps/screservation/>

2. Be prepared with the following information:

- Name of Organization
- Contact Person (phone and e-mail)
- Type of Event
- Building and Room requested
- Setup of Room (if applicable)
- Date, Time, & Estimated Attendance
- Special Needs (microphone, projector, etc.)

The man to know is Charlie Scofield - he is your one stop shop for all your space needs at Ball State!

3. Follow-up with reservation

- Don't assume you have a room just because you requested it. You should receive a confirmation via email or from Charlie directly letting you know that you have the space.

Priority Dates Scheduling Process

Scheduling of all campus events (commonly referred to as the "Priority Dates Calendar") is a function of the Office of Student Life. The goal is to coordinate events to avoid conflicts between organizations for locations, resources, and attendees.

The Priority Dates Scheduling process applies only to events open to all students. It does not automatically reserve the space requested by each organization.

Greeks most often put philanthropic events, recruitment events and any other events they are open to the entire campus on the calendar.

How to successfully plan events using the priority dates scheduling process:

February Hold a meeting with appropriate members and advisors and plan dates for the upcoming 09-10 academic year. You should pick a desired date and location and a back up in the event of a conflict. Be sure to look at the holidays and university breaks. No one is going to your event on Fall Break!

Early March Submit your requested dates and locations to the Office of Student Life by the deadline.

Late March The Office of Student Life will compile dates submitted from all organizations and offices. If conflicts arise with Greek organizations (as they often do), the IFC, Panhellenic and NPHC presidents are responsible for working with the chapters to resolve the conflict.

You will be notified with which date you were given for your event.

Early April Contact Charlie Scofield to reserve the room.

FIPG, Inc. Risk Management Policy

ALCOHOL AND DRUGS

1. The possession, sale, use or consumption of ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES, while on chapter premises or during a fraternity event, in any situation sponsored or endorsed by the chapter, or at any event an observer would associate with the fraternity, must be in compliance with any and all applicable laws of the state, province, county, city and institution of higher education, and must comply with either the BYOB or Third Party Vendor Guidelines.
2. No alcoholic beverages may be purchased through or with chapter funds nor may the purchase of same for members or guests be undertaken or coordinated by any member in the name of or on behalf of the chapter. The purchase or use of a bulk quantity or common source(s) of alcoholic beverage, for example, kegs or cases, is prohibited.
3. OPEN PARTIES, meaning those with unrestricted access by non-members of the fraternity, without specific invitation, where alcohol is present, are forbidden.
4. No members, collectively or individually, shall purchase for, serve to, or sell alcoholic beverages to any minor (i.e., those under legal drinking age).
5. The possession, sale, or use of any ILLEGAL DRUGS or CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES while on chapter premises or during a fraternity event or at any event that an observer would associate with the fraternity is strictly prohibited.
6. No chapter may co-sponsor an event with an alcohol distributor or tavern (tavern defined as an establishment generating more than half of annual gross sales from alcohol) at which alcohol is given away, sold or otherwise provided to those present. This includes any event held in, at or on the property of a tavern as defined above for purposes of fundraising. However, a chapter may rent or use a room or area in a tavern as defined above for a closed event held within the provisions of this policy, including the use of a third party vendor and guest list. An event at which alcohol is present may be conducted or co-sponsored with a charitable organization if the event is held within the provisions of this policy.
7. No chapter may co-sponsor, co-finance or attend or participate in a function at which alcohol is purchased by any of the host chapters, groups or organizations.
8. All recruitment or rush activities associated with any chapter will be non-alcoholic. No recruitment or rush activities associated with any chapter may be held at or in conjunction with a tavern or school distributor as defined in this policy.
9. No member or pledge, associate/new member or novice shall permit, tolerate, encourage or participate in "drinking games". The definition of drinking games includes but is not limited to the consumption of shots of alcohol, liquor or alcoholic beverages, the practice of consuming shots equating to one's age, "beer pong", "century club", "dares" or any other activity involving the consumption of alcohol which involves duress or encouragement related to the consumption of alcohol.
10. No alcohol shall be present at any pledge/associate member/new member/ novice program, activity or ritual of the chapter. This includes but is not limited to activities associated with "bid night", "big brother/big sister night" and initiation.

FIPG is the basis for most national policies & the new campus policy. The complete manual is on the Greek life website.

HAZING

No chapter, colony, student or alumnus shall conduct nor condone hazing activities. Hazing activities are defined as:

“Any action taken or situation created, intentionally, whether on or off fraternity premises, to produce mental or physical discomfort, embarrassment, harassment, or ridicule. Such activities may include but are not limited to the following: use of alcohol; paddling in any form; creation of excessive fatigue; physical and psychological shocks; quests, treasure hunts, scavenger hunts, road trips or any other such activities carried on outside or inside of the confines of the chapter house; wearing of public apparel which is conspicuous and not normally in good taste; engaging in public stunts and buffoonery; morally degrading or humiliating games and activities; and any other activities which are not consistent with academic achievement, fraternal law, ritual or policy or the regulations and policies of the educational institution or applicable state law.”

SEXUAL ABUSE AND HARASSMENT

The fraternity will not tolerate or condone any form of sexist or sexually abusive behaviors on the part of its members, whether physical, mental, or emotional. This is to include any actions which are demeaning to women or men, ranging from but not limited to verbal harassment to sexual assault by individuals or members acting together.

FIRE, HEALTH AND SAFETY

1. All chapter houses should meet all local fire and health codes and standards.
 2. All chapters should post by common phones and in other locations emergency numbers for fire, police and ambulance and should have posted evacuation routes on the back of the door of each sleeping room.
 3. All chapters should comply with engineering recommendations as reported by the insurance company or municipal authorities.
 4. The possession and/or use of firearms or explosive devices of any kind within the confines and premises of the chapter house is expressly forbidden.
 5. Candles should not be used in chapter houses or individual rooms except under controlled circumstances such as initiation.

EDUCATION

As stated in the BSU Fraternity & Sorority Accreditation program chapter presidents, risk managers & social chairs must pass the risk management test with 90% or better score. In addition, chapters must attend or host a risk management education program each semester. Ultimately the president, risk manager and social chair are responsible for ensuring all members are educated about this policy and their respective inter/national policies.

Accreditation Program

The National Panhellenic Conference (NPC)

NPC Vision Statement

Adopted at the Biennial Session, 10/05.

The National Panhellenic Conference will be the premier advocacy and support organization for its members, member groups, college and alumnae panhellenics and a proponent of women's fraternity membership.

NPC Mission Statement

Adopted at the Biennial Session, 10/05.

The National Panhellenic Conference exists to promote the values of and to serve as an advocate for its member groups in collaboration with those members, campuses and communities.

The National Panhellenic Conference provides support and guidance for its 26 member inter/national sororities/women's fraternities and serves as the national voice on contemporary issues of sorority life. Founded in 1902, NPC is one of the oldest and largest women's membership organizations representing more than 4 million women at 655 college/university campuses and 4,500 local alumnae chapters in the U.S. and Canada. Each year, NPC-affiliated collegians and alumnae donate more than $5 million to worthy causes, provide $2.8 million in scholarships to women and volunteer 500,000 hours in their communities.

NPC - This We Believe

Fraternity

Fraternity is a social experience based on the fundamental right of a free people to form voluntary associations. It is one of the enrichments of college life.

Mutual Choice

The young woman who wants fraternity experience will find it possible to belong on most campuses today. Fraternity membership is a social experience arrived at by mutual choice and selection. Fraternity membership is by invitation.

Fraternities Exist Because They:

- * Provide a good democratic social experience.
- * Give value beyond college years.
- * Create, through their ideals, an ever-widening circle of service beyond the membership.
- * Develop the individual's potential through leadership opportunities and group effort.
- * Fill the need of belonging.

Fraternities Continue Because:

Young women feel a continuing need to belong. Parents appreciate fraternity values and standards and cooperate to make membership possible. College administrations, recognizing the values of fraternities, continue to welcome them on their campuses and to invite them to establish new chapters.

On pages 30-31 the NPC Standards are listed. These are minimum expectations of collegiate chapters of the National Panhellenic Conference groups. NPC expects Panhellenic to support the Standards and assist chapters with reaching the expectations. All Presidents should educate themselves and their chapters on the standards. To learn more about the National Panhellenic Conference visit www.npcwomen.org.

Panhellenic Council (PHC)

Overview:

Many Panhellenic sorority women do not understand the purpose of PHC. PHC is comprised of every woman belonging to one of the 10 Panhellenic sororities on this campus - this is better known as the Panhellenic Association. The Association is led by elected officers known as the executive board. All decisions are voted on by the Panhellenic Council which is composed of one delegate from every member sorority. Any sorority woman can propose changes to the Panhellenic Council.

Purpose:

The object of this Panhellenic Association shall be to develop and maintain fraternity life and Interfraternity relations at a high level of accomplishment and in so doing to:

1. Consider the goals and ideals of member groups as continually applicable to campus and personal life.
2. Promote superior scholarship as basic to intellectual achievement.
3. Cooperate with member fraternities and university administration in concern for and maintenance of high social and moral standards.
4. Act in accordance with National Panhellenic Conference Unanimous Agreements and policies when appropriate.
5. Act in accordance with such rules established by the sovereignty, rights and privileges of member fraternities.

On next page you will find the Panhellenic Code of Ethics which was adopted by the Panhellenic Council in 1998. It defines ethical behavior and outlines the expectations of all Panhellenic women at Ball State University. In addition you will find job descriptions for all of the PHC executive board officers on pages 32-38 . The PHC Constitution, Bylaws and Policies can be found online at www.bsu.edu/greeklife.

Panhellenic Code of Ethics (Adopted 1998)

We, as members of the Panhellenic community of Ball State University, agree to honor and uphold the National Panhellenic Conference UNANIMOUS AGREEMENTS through our thoughts, words, and actions. Our goal is to be models of pride, honesty, and courtesy for all chapters and individuals of the Greek community. Respect for and consideration of individual rights and feelings are the responsibility of every member. Through encouraging and assisting all Greek members in the pursuit of moral and social advancement and the promotion of love and unity within the Greek community, we will foster an environment of harmony and understanding that furthers the ideals of every fraternity. While keeping with our aim to promote the highest ideals of womanhood, we will hold each other accountable for behavior that is inconsistent with our expected standards of conduct and educate our members fully on these same standards. We will strive to behave in a manner consistent with each chapter's ritual and founding principles in all interactions with others. By demonstrating these ethical* standards, we truly will be "furthering our fraternity life, in harmony with its best possibilities."

- We as women of Panhellenic Council believe ethical behavior to be the following: We trust each other to be responsible and to conduct ourselves within the realm of high moral standards. We will treat each other with respect and dignity and with the highest amount of fairness and honesty!!

Panhellenic Mission

As undergraduate members of women's Fraternities at Ball State University, we strive to uphold the ideals of scholarship, service, and leadership with a genuine commitment to our college and surrounding communities. Through mutual respect and support of all the Greek women and their rituals, we will establish and demonstrate a diverse and cooperative sisterhood. The women of Panhellenic Council will devote time and resources toward the development of every chapter while fostering positive interactions among all women and ethical behavior in accordance with the unanimous agreements.

NPC Standards

Minimum Expectations

Believing that Greek organizations contribute in multiple ways to campus life and higher education, the leadership of the 26 inter/national women's fraternities that comprise the National Panhellenic Conference is proud of the positive contributions our groups make to their host institutions. We are committed to the continuation of our organizations at their host institutions. In an effort to reaffirm our high standards, the leadership of these 26 inter/national women's fraternities provides the following standards as minimum expectations of collegiate chapters of the National Panhellenic Conference groups.

Our chapters will enhance and promote each member's development and learning by:

POSITIVELY AFFECTING INTELLECTUAL DEVELOPMENT

Each member group of the National Panhellenic Conference places high value on education, academic performance and intellectual development.

The following minimum standards for chapters are:

- Meeting or exceeding the campus All Women's Average.
- Providing academic programming to new members and members, co-sponsoring programming with another Greek and/or campus organization or attending campus-sponsored programming that may include but not be limited to teaching study skills, providing tutoring, and recognizing scholastic achievement.
- Developing positive relationships with university faculty by seeking their assistance with the chapter's academic programming and scholarship goals.

INSTILLING THE VALUES OF THEIR ORGANIZATIONS AND THEIR HOST INSTITUTION

Each member group of the National Panhellenic Conference:

- Integrates their values, missions and standards throughout their collegiate chapter organizational and programming structure.
- Educates their chapter members on policies pertaining to the issues of alcohol and substance abuse, underage drinking, and all inter/national policies pertaining to it.
- Encourages non-alcoholic social activities.
- Requires a policy of alcohol-free facilities for all of their housed chapters.
- Provides a standards board structure by which chapters hold their members accountable for their behavior.

The following minimum standards for chapters are:

- Providing information on underage drinking and alcohol and substance abuse at least once a term.
- Enforcing its inter/national organization's clear policies on alcohol and social event planning guidelines/policies.
- Abiding by all federal, state/province and local laws related to alcohol and substance use.
- Providing at least one (1) values education program annually.
- Partnering with the university to provide a healthy and safe collegiate experience for chapters that is grounded in the core values and mission of both the host institution and the inter/national organization.

DEVELOPING LEADERSHIP SKILLS AND ABILITIES

Each member group of the National Panhellenic Conference places high value on the development, support and mentoring of leaders.

The following minimum standards for chapters are:

- Providing at least one (1) leadership development program annually, co-sponsoring a program with another Greek and/or campus organization or attending a campus-sponsored program.
- Requiring at least one (1) chapter officer to attend the inter/national organization's annual Convention/Leadership Conference.
- Encouraging chapter members to utilize their leadership skills for the benefit of other campus organizations, activities and/or projects.
- Having at least one (1) local alumna serving as an advisor. In communities where local alumnae are not available to serve as advisors, a chapter shall rely on a faculty advisor. An adviser and chapter leader shall periodically engage in dialogue with university officials.

DEVELOPING POSITIVE RELATIONSHIPS (BROTHERHOOD/SISTERHOOD)

Each member group of the National Panhellenic Conference places high value on respect for others, human dignity, cultural diversity and self-worth.

The following minimum standards for chapters are:

- Adhering to its inter/national policies regarding hazing.
- Executing a new member program consistent with the inter/national organization's values that positively introduces new members to the Greek community.
- Providing at least one (1) program annually on the value of human dignity, co-sponsoring a program with another Greek and/or campus organization or attending a campus-sponsored program.
- Participating in at least one (1) campus sponsored program annually that promotes the campus' multicultural climate.
- Providing a minimum of one (1) health and wellness program annually, co-sponsoring a program with another
- Greek and/or campus organization or attending a campus-sponsored program.

DEVELOPING CITIZENSHIP THROUGH SERVICE AND OUTREACH.

Each member group of the National Panhellenic Conference places high value on community and philanthropic service.

The following minimum standards for chapters are:

- Engaging in a minimum of one (1) community service project of hands-on assistance each term.
- Complying with the fire/safety inspection regulations (housed chapters) of its inter/national organization and host institution.
- Acknowledging and promoting positive relationships with the greater university community by engaging in regular communication and dialogue that informs and solves problems when needed.

Developed by the National Panhellenic Conference Inter/National Presidents. Adopted by the National Panhellenic Conference 12/8/03.

Crisis Management

In the event of a fire, serious injury, death or other crisis the chapter president must handle the situation and maintain calm and clear thinking among other members. These procedures are provided as guidelines. Chapters should consult their national organization's crisis management plan and adapt this plan as needed. It has been adapted from national organization's plans.

Definition of a Crisis:

- An accident resulting in severe or fatal injuries;
- A member attempting or committing suicide;
- A fire or explosion in the chapter facility;
- Substantial damage to the chapter facility caused by a storm, flood, tornado, or earthquake;
- Deliberate damage to the chapter facility from malicious mischief, sabotage, or a riot;
- Chapter member, members, or the entire chapter being accused of violating local, state, Federal, or university/college laws, rules or regulations.

Each Semester:

- Update numbers, emails and contact information for all members, campus resources and advisors in your cell phone and on paper
- Review the plan with members and new members
- Provide a copy of your crisis management plan to all members and new members. It should include contact information
- Host practices and drills (i.e. fire drills and case studies for a crisis situation)
- Provide your plan to parents, advisors and Office of Student Life
- Make sure your contact information is up to date with your national organization
- Update list of members who may have medical knowledge (i.e. first aid certified, CPR, nursing, EMT, etc.) in the event of an emergency during a chapter event

Greek Emergency Hotline:

- Phone provided by Greek councils
- Greek staff members in the Office of Student Life rotate who is "on call"
- Someone is available 24/7 at this number
- STOP! Program this number in your cell phone right now: 765-730-3851

Use in emergencies only. During a less serious situation (i.e. a Social Events Policy violation) the Greek councils should be contacted

10. Do not tell anyone it was a suicide until chapter is assembled and parents have been notified.
11. The member's belongings should not be moved or touched.

In the event of an attempted suicide with serious injury follow the guidelines provided under serious injury.

In the event of an attempted suicide without serious injury, do not assemble the chapter or inform the membership. It should be held quietly. Still contact the chapter advisor, national organization and Office of Student Life.

Reporting an Incident or Crisis

Chapter members have a responsibility to promptly report all incidents that could result in an insurance claim. Prompt reporting often can prevent minor incidents from developing into major problems.

What Facts Should I Gather?

- What happened?
- Who was involved? Include any witnesses.
- When did the events take place (specific time and date)?
- What events (if any) led up to this happening? Create a timeline of events.
- Where did this occur?
- Why did this occur?
- How did this occur?
- List any property damage.
- Nature of injuries.

What Types of Incidents Should be Reported?

- Any incident that caused or contributed to an injury or death.
- Any demand for compensation, whether verbal or written.
- Any lawsuits or subpoenas served on you or your chapter by an officer of the court.
- Any contacts by an attorney or investigator asking about an occurrence that happened at the chapter facility or that involved chapter members.
- Your national organization may require that you complete specific forms. Do this as soon as possible while the facts are still fresh in members' minds.

What do I do after I report?

- Do not admit responsibility or liability in any accident or occurrence.
- NEVER discuss an incident with an attorney or investigator without clearance from Headquarters.
- Appoint one spokesman (usually the chapter president) to handle any questions from outsiders about the occurrence.
- Instruct the chapter members not to discuss the incident with anyone outside of the Fraternity/Sorority.
- Continue constant communication with your national organization and the university.
- Depending on the circumstances you may need to follow up with university counseling services.

Ball State Panhellenic Association Resolution Supporting Alcohol-Free Housing

The following resolution was adopted in 2000. It supports alcohol-free housing and prohibits co-sponsorship of social functions with alcohol at fraternity houses.

Whereas, All 26 NPC groups have agreed that it is inadvisable to co-sponsor a party involving alcohol when the majority of guests attending are under the legal drinking age, and

Whereas, All 26 NPC groups have agreed that no college chapter funds may be used to purchase alcohol, and

Whereas, The co-sponsors of social events are potentially liable regardless of how the expenses are shared, and

Whereas, The Greek community has taken a leadership role in providing alcohol education and responsible use of alcohol to its members, and

Whereas, The NPC/NIC Task Force on Substance-Free Fraternity Housing believes that alcohol-free fraternity housing will result in a higher quality fraternity experience and improved health and safety among collegiate members, and

Whereas, Efforts to create a living environment where behaviors consistent with fraternity principles can flourish deserve the support of Panhellenic women, who have historically observed a substance-free facility standard, and

Whereas, Panhellenic women at Ball State University wish to be proactive in dealing with the misuse of alcohol among members of the Greek Community, and

Whereas, Panhellenic women at Ball State University hold themselves to high ethical standards and do not tolerate any form of hazing; therefore be it

Resolved, That the National Panhellenic Conference member groups at Ball State University, starting in the Fall of 2000, will not co-sponsor a function at a fraternity house if that function is not alcohol-free; and be it further

Resolved, That the National Panhellenic Conference member groups at Ball State University will co-sponsor at least one registered alcohol-free social function with a fraternity each semester; and be it further

Resolved, That each National Panhellenic Conference member group at Ball State University agrees to walk-out of any situation in which the above policy is not followed or any situation that puts its members in danger and not to return for at least 12 hours; and be it further

Resolved, That each National Panhellenic Conference member group at Ball State University will have at least the President, Social Chair, Risk Management Chair and one other member-at-large TIPS trained; and be it further

Resolved, That the National Panhellenic Conference member groups at Ball State University will co-sponsor only three activities in conjunction with a campus activity or philanthropy event; and be it further

Resolved, That the National Panhellenic Conference member groups at Ball State University will annually hold a workshop on values and human dignity within their chapter to discuss respect and treatment of new members; and be it further

Resolved, That the National Panhellenic Conference member groups at Ball State University fully support the fraternities that have chosen alcohol-free housing and will encourage other fraternities to follow suit.

Greek Listservs

The Office of Student Life maintains 21 Greek listservs for a variety of officer, chairman and advisory positions. This allows anyone on the listserv to send an email to other listserv members - it keeps communication lines open and simple. You will be added to one of the following listservs automatically:

- ifc-l (IFC fraternity presidents and IFC exec board members)
- phc-l (PHC sorority presidents and PHC exec board members)
- bsunphc (all NPHC members)

To send an email to a listserv that you belong to, simply type the address in to the 'to' line of your email. For example:

TO: ifc-l@listserv.bsu.edu
SUBJECT: upcoming meeting

If you are not receiving messages on the listserv, contact Maria Bumbalough in the office.

Grade Appeals Process

Issues with grades inevitable arise. The grade appeals process is an opportunity for chapters to report any grade issues to the Office of Student Life so that the chapter's GPA can be recalculated accordingly. For example, if a member was given a D by a professor but really should have had a B, then he/she should report the grade change to the office after the professor has changed the grade officially within the computer system. The chapter's GPA will be adjusted to reflect the grade change. Grades appeals will be accepted after grades are distributed to chapter presidents on January 9th through January 16th. Once the appeals process is over, the semester report will be released publicly.

Roster Updates

All roster changes must be updated by January 30th. This update removes any December graduates, adds any newer members and also changes new members to initiated members. Presidents are ultimately responsible for making sure additions, deletions and corrections are made by the deadline.

- NPHC Week of Events for 09-10 selected
- Educate new members about IFC academic policy
- Attend the Greek Graduate Assistant Interest Reception

Greek Alternative Spring Break

Each spring, the members of Greek community participate in a Greek Alternative Spring Break (GASB). Greeks use their spring break to do community service in another part of the country. It is a great experience that allows Greeks to demonstrate their values by lending a hand to a community in need.

GREEK 101

Greek 101 is a half day experience each semester in which new members of the Ball State Greek community have the opportunity to learn about the what it means to be Greek at Ball State. Greek 101 allows new members to develop a strong sense of community through discussion and interaction. Topics vary every year but tend to focus on the following:

- Values
- Greek history
- Governing council orientation
- Scholarship
- Alcohol Abuse
- Hazing
- Greek Strategic Plan

Greek 101 is scheduled on March 1st this spring.

Order of Omega

Order of Omega is an international honorary formed to recognize those fraternity men and women who have attained a high standard of leadership in interfraternal activities, to bring together outstanding fraternity men and women to create an organization which will help to mold the sentiment of the institution on questions of fraternity affairs, to bring together members of the faculty, alumni, and undergraduate members of fraternities and sororities, and to help create an atmosphere where ideas and issues can be discussed openly across Greek lines and to help work out solutions.

Rho Lambda

Members of this Greek honorary for women must be nominated and selected by members of their sororities in the fall of their junior year.

Accreditation Essentials

- Submit the chapter's scholarship plan to the Office of Student Life
- Report all new members who joined your organization. IFC should use the New Member Reporting form and Panhellenic should use the COB Reporting form
- Notify all new members about Greek 101
- Submit the chapter new member education plan to the office
- Submit the chapter goals to the office
- Presidents, risk managers and social chairs take the risk management test
- Attend Phired Up
- Announce the dates, times and locations for all the Greek Week events – get the chapter fired up!
- Apply for Order of Omega and Rho Lambda honorary organizations (members who excel academically)
- Hold a study skills session for new members
- Send a letter to families of new members
- Provide new members and parents with a copy of the new member program
- Attend council meetings

March Responsibilities

- Submit Priority Dates Events to the Office of Student Life
- NPHC elections will take place this month. Election information is always available in the Office of Student Life and council meetings and on the website.
- Hold spring break safety educational program for members
- Select outstanding leaders to attend the Undergraduate Interfraternity Institute in the summer – check with your national foundation for available scholarships
- Sponsor a senior to attend the spring graduating senior luncheon in April
- Evaluate goals set at the beginning of the semester

The Undergraduate Inter-Fraternity Institute (UIFI)

UIFI is unlike any leadership conference you have ever been to. Top notch fraternity men and sorority women from around the country come together for a 5 day experience that changes their lives and betters their Greek communities. Most sessions are held at Indiana University or Butler University over the summer.

Why Attend UIFI?

UIFI challenge you intellectually, emotionally, and physically. You will develop your leadership skills, teach you about resolving complex issues, grow your confidence, enhance your critical thinking ability, and build your courage. You will also increase your network of relationships that can help you reach your potential and attain your goals.

Themes for the experience include:

Courage: Acting upon one's conviction and beliefs.

Culture: The norms and patterns of behavior expressed and transmitted by the people in a community or organization.

Elevation: Raising an organization or community by at least one level. Elevation can repair or transform an organization.

Era: A period of time that can be marked by distinctive characteristics and/or significant events.

Groupthink: The practice of approaching problems or issues as matters that are best dealt with by consensus of a group rather than by individuals acting independently.

Leadership: Leadership is a process that occurs when shared values foster collaborative relationships that lead to collective action intended to elevate an organization, cause, or community.

Revolution: A profound and transformative change in an organization or community.

Ritual/ritual: The symbolic and esoteric ceremonies that teach the founding values and principles of an organization

Panhellenic and IFC provide scholarships to attend this experience. For more information visit www.nicindy.org/programs/UIFI

Accreditation Essentials

- Attend Greek Week events
- Submit recruitment plans to the office
- Pay IFC and Panhellenic dues. Contact the VP of Administration for the council with specific questions
- New members attend Greek 101
- Attend council meetings

May Responsibilities

- Report any changes to elected and appointed positions to Office of Student Life via website
- Make sure the Office of Student Life has your summer contact information!
- Pick up chapter grade reports and make any necessary appeals.
- Close house and check members out for the summer
- Consider planning a retreat for the summer - this will allow you to re-evaluate chapter goals and progress and make plans for the upcoming semester

Grade Appeals Process

Issues with grades inevitable arise. The grade appeals process is an opportunity for chapters to report any grade issues to the Office of Student Life so that the chapter's GPA can be recalculated accordingly. For example, if a member was given a D by a professor but really should have had a B, then he/she should report the grade change to the office after the professor has changed the grade officially within the computer system. The chapter's GPA will be adjusted to reflect the grade change. Grades appeals will be accepted after grades are distributed to chapter presidents on May 18th through May 29th. Once the appeals process is over, the semester report will be released publicly.

Roster Updates

All roster changes must be updated by May 1st. This will ensure that the chapter's grades reflect the work of the people actually in the chapter during the spring semester. Presidents are ultimately responsible for making sure additions, deletions and corrections are made by the deadline.

Accreditation Essentials

- Submit all roster updates to the Office of Student Life. These will count for chapter grades so make sure you check the list twice!
- Submit forms for all service hours completed and money donated to charities
- Attend council meetings

- Ensure SET members attend training
- Update chapter rosters

Scholarship Plans

Scholarship plans are submitted to the Office of Student Life each semester. The plan should be developed based on expectations from your national headquarters and the information provided during the scholarship chair training. Submitting the plan by the established deadline is a requirement for accreditation.

Roster Updates

All roster changes must be updated by September 4th. This update removes any May or July graduates, adds any newer members and also changes new members to initiated members. Presidents are ultimately responsible for making sure additions, deletions and corrections are made by the deadline.

GREEK 101

Greek 101 is a half day experience each semester in which new members of the Ball State Greek community have the opportunity to learn about the what it means to be Greek at Ball State. - Select members to live in house for 2010-2011 academic year
- Finalize chapter election timeline and recruit people to run
- Select emerging leaders to attend the Indiana Greek Leadership Conference – IFC and Panhellenic offers scholarships
- Sponsor member to attend Greek senior etiquette and networking dinner

How Much are Council Dues?

IFC chapters pay dues each semester and they are $7.75 per initiated member and $20 per new member. Panhellenic dues are $9 per member per semester. Council dues are based on the chapter roster maintained in the Office of Student Life. Keeping your roster consistently up-to-date is an easy way to eliminate issues with your dues invoice. Contact the VP of Administration with questions about dues.

Why Run for Panhellenic & IFC Elections?

The leaves are turning colors, the temperatures are getting cooler and the end of the semester is finally in sight. These signs could mean only one thing...election time for many fraternities and sororities!

Many people are considering which chapter office or chair position to run for during the upcoming weeks. Taking on a leadership position within the chapter is a great opportunity to build skills and grow as a person; however, an executive board position on the IFC or Panhellenic council can provide this and so much more!

Council positions provide opportunities for the executive board members to strengthen existing leadership skills and create real change within the community. These individuals network with campus administrators and Greek leaders at other schools. In addition, they bring together people from different organizations to improve the community thus improving chapters within the community.

Having members on the Greek council is also a way to ensure your chapter's voice is heard and to have a say in the direction of the community. Tapping individuals with Greek leadership experience and knowledge to run for these positions is just as important as tapping the person who will succeed the chapter's executive board.

Accreditation Essentials

- Hold a study skills session for new members
- Pay IFC and Panhellenic dues. Contact the VP of Administration for the council with specific questions
- Yes chapter elections are coming up but don't forget about IFC and Panhellenic elections. These men and women should represent the best of the best Greek members. Seek our members from your chapter and others to run for elections!
- Gather volunteers for Greek sponsored Children's Fair during Family Weekend
- Attend council meetings

- Panhellenic and IFC elections will take place this month. Application packets are always made available in the Office of Student Life and council meetings and on the website. Go for it and run!
- Review any goals set at the beginning of the year/semester. How far have you gotten?
- Revise transition program and plan dates for officer training and transition – it is most effective before winter break
- Send leases home with members so parents can review over Thanksgiving break

Updating Office, Chairman and Advisor Contact Info

As elections take place be sure you are updating your headquarters and the Office of Student Life with important contact information. Updating the information is easy! Just visit the Greek life website and type it all in. Selecting one member to update all information is an easy way to make sure it gets done correctly and in timely manner. Officers will automatically added to the appropriate Greek listserv.

How do IFC & Panhellenic Elections Work?

IFC election take place during the first two IFC meetings in November. Four positions are elected at each meeting. Candidates must have submitted a application, have a 2.60 cumulative GPA, be available Wednesday and Thursday evenings for meetings, cannot be a chapter president, been an initiated member of his fraternity for at least one semester and must have and be committed to upholding the policies and principles of the Interfraternity Council. Candidate give platform speeches to the rest of the IFC delegation. IFC delegates vote and select the IFC executive board members.

Panhellenic elections take place throughout the month of November. Candidates must have submitted a application, have a 2.80 cumulative GPA, be available Tuesday and Thursday evenings for meetings, cannot be a chapter president, been an initiated member of her sorority for at least one semester, interview with the current Panhellenic Executive Board members and must have and be committed to upholding the policies and principles of the Panhellenic Council. After interviews, the Panhellenic officers prepare a proposed slate to the Panhellenic delegates. Candidates slated must give a platform speech during the Panhellenic meeting. Panhellenic delegates vote and select the Panhellenic executive board.

Accreditation Essentials

- Review accreditation document with all outgoing and newly elected officers
- Identify any missing components of the accreditation document and complete them
- Attend council meetings

- All outgoing and incoming officers should hold a transition meeting with Cara
- Close house for winter break
- Submit forms for new members who completed IFC academic policy requirements
- Make plans to attend or tell the incoming president to attend the Greek Leadership Summit. It is usually held within the first two weekends of the month and he/she needs to be there

Getting the Recognition You Deserve

Wait! You are not done yet - before you and the other officers leave make sure you submit all documentation and apply for all awards to ensure your chapter is recognized for a hard year's worth of work. Apply for individual awards, submit all accreditation documentation and turn in the philanthropy and community service forms. Your chapter will thank you when they are recognized throughout the upcoming semester.

Officer Transitions

Officer transitions is the final responsibility of an outgoing officer. At a minimum a date should be set prior to the end of the semester to evaluate the progress towards chapters goals and exchange and review binders. At best the transition is scheduled over several meetings involves all outgoing and incoming officers and advisors and is well thought out. Your headquarters will most likely have a program you can utilize to assist with transitions. If you do not have one, the Office of Student Life has a program that can be adapted to fit the needs of any chapter.

Roster Updates

All roster changes must be updated by December 11th. This update removes any members who left the chapter and adds any newer members. This will ensure that the chapter's grades reflect the work of the people actually in the chapter during the fall semester. Presidents are ultimately responsible for making sure additions, deletions and corrections are made by the deadline.

Accreditation Essentials

- Submit all roster updates to the Office of Student Life. These will count for chapter grades so make sure you check the list twice!

3rd Annual Greek Leadership Summit January 9-10, 2009

Goals and Intended Outcomes

- Participants will learn how to appreciate the differences in others and develop relationships with people from other chapters.
- Participants will begin to network with individuals from the Office of Student Life and develop a university support system.
- Participants will be knowledgeable about upcoming changes and events within the fraternity and sorority community.
- Participants will be provided with resources to carry out position related duties.
- Participants will develop skills to communicate, collaborate and deal with conflict more effectively with people different than themselves.
- Participants will be provided with a forum to have conversations about the strengths, weaknesses and needs of the Greek community.
- Participants will leave encouraged, energized, and confident to face the challenges ahead.

Ground Rules: Specific and Simple!

How a team accomplished its goals is just as important to success as what it accomplished! Ground rules are the team's bottom line expectations for each other. Rules help establish trust. Our team rules will be specific and simple!

- We Work Together! This rule acknowledges that there is power in teamwork and that teamwork is necessary for accomplishing the goals of the team.
- We Talk Straight! The group will confront how they can constructively deal with conflict in order to establish respect and trust.
- Silence is Agreement. This rule clarifies the meaning of silence.
- 51% Agreement Means 100% Commitment. When a majority of the officers/chapter agrees on an issue, the entire team fully commits to it.
- Problems will be answered with solutions. A problem only exists if there is a difference between what is actually happening and what you desire to be happening. Everything else is just complaining.
- All of us have something to learn. All of us have something to teach.
- Individuals can expect to gain from this experience in direct proportion to what they are willing to put into it.
- We do not have to agree...we do need to understand.
- Everyone is expected to give his or her best...ALWAYS.
- We Begin and End Meetings on Time!
- We Do Not Gossip!
- We Work with Discipline!
- K.I.S.S.: Keep It Simple Silly

Do Values Matter?

What are your personal values?

What are your chapter's values/creed/motto?

How do you represent these well? What are times in which you don't represent these well?

What are the values of the Greek community?

Should we have community values? Why or why not?

Who Sits on Your Board of Directors??

The greatest service one can perform is to be a friend to someone. Friendship is not only doing something for someone, but it is caring for someone, which is what every person needs.

- C. Neil Strait

Future Perfect: It takes a Leader to Chart the Course

Community Defined:

A dynamic whole that emerges when a group of people:

- Participate in common practices;
- Depend upon one another;
- Make decisions together;
- Identify themselves as part of something larger than the sum of their individual relationships; and
- Commit themselves for the long term to their own, one another's and the group's well-being.

Write down the words or phrases that you think best characterize/describe the time period in the appropriate boxes. Dream about what your ideal community would look like.

Five Years Ago	Two Years Ago
Today	Five Years from Now

Office of Student Life Questions

Before the Game:

What is your perception of the office/university/Greek staff? Is it mostly negative or mostly positive or neutral?

What experiences have shaped this perception?

Is Ball State supportive of fraternities and sororities?

Why do you think the university chooses to provide staff and funding for fraternities and sororities that many other student organizations do not receive?

What does the Office of Student Life provide for fraternities and sororities?

After the Game:

Did you learn anything from this game? Were there any surprises?

What is one thing you learned during this activity?

How did this impact your perception of the Office of Student Life or Ball State University?

What is one way you will utilize the OSL office this semester?

Toyota: No Satisfaction by Charles Fishman

Deep inside Toyota's car factory in Georgetown, Kentucky, is the paint shop, where naked steel car bodies arrive to receive layers of coatings and colors before returning to the assembly line to have their interiors and engines installed. Every day, 2,000 Camrys, Avalons, and Solaras glide in to be painted one of a dozen colors by carefully programmed robots.

Georgetown's paint shop is vast and crowded, but in two places there are wide areas of open concrete floor, each the size of a basketball court. The story of how that floor space came to be cleared—tons of equipment dismantled and removed—is really the story of how Toyota has reshaped the U.S. car market.

It's the story of Toyota's genius: an insatiable competitiveness that would seem un-American were it not for all the Americans making it happen. Toyota's competitiveness is quiet, internal, selfcritical. It is rooted in an institutional obsession with improvement that Toyota manages to instill in each one of its workers, a pervasive lack of complacency with whatever was accomplished yesterday. The result is a startling contrast to the car business. At a time when the traditional Big Three are struggling, Toyota is thriving. Just this year, Ford and GM have terminated 46,000 North American employees. Together, they have announced the closing of 26 North American factories over the next five years. Toyota has never closed a North American factory; it will open a new one in Texas this fall and another in Ontario in 2008. Detroit isn't being bested by imports: 60% of the cars Toyota sells in North America are made here.

Toyota doesn't have corporate convulsions, and it never has. It restructures a little bit every work shift. That's what the open space in the Georgetown paint shop is all about.

Chad Buckner helped clear the space. Buckner, 35, has a soft Southern accent and an air of helpfulness. He is an engineering manager in the painting department, where he arrived straight out of the University of Kentucky 13 years ago. His whole career has been spent at Toyota.

As recently as 2004, a car body spent 10 hours in painting. Robots did much of the work, then as now, but they were supplied with paint through long hoses from storage tanks. "If we were painting a car red, before we could paint the next car white, we had to stop, flush the red paint out of the lines and the applicator tip, and reload the next color," Buckner says. Georgetown literally threw away 30% of the pricey car paint it bought, cleaning it out of equipment and supply hoses when switching colors.

Now, each painting robot, eight per car, selects a paint cylinder the size of a large water bottle. A whirling disk at the end of the robot arm flings out a mist of topcoat paint. When a car is painted--it takes just seconds--the paint cartridge is set back down, and a freshly filled cartridge is selected by each robot.

For Buckner, the paint-shop improvements aren't "projects" or "initiatives." They are the work, his work, every day, every week. That's one of the subtle but distinctive characteristics of a Toyota factory. The supervisors and managers aren't "bosses" in any traditional American sense. Their job is to find ways to do the work better: more efficiently, more effectively.

"We're all incredibly proud of what we've accomplished," says Buckner, a little puzzled that his attitude might be considered unusual. "But you don't stop. You don't stop. There's no reason to be satisfied."

The Process Process

What is so striking about Toyota's Georgetown factory is, in fact, that it only looks like a car factory. It's really a big brain--a kind of laboratory focused on a single mission: not how to make cars, but how to make cars better. The cars it does make--one every 27 seconds--are in a sense just a by-product of the larger mission. Better cars, sure; but really, better ways to make cars. It's not just the product, it's the process.

The process is, in fact, paramount--so important that "Toyota also has a process for teaching you how to improve the process," says Steven J. Spear, a senior lecturer at MIT who has studied Toyota for more than a decade. The work is really threefold: making cars, making cars better, and teaching everyone how to make cars better. At its Olympian best, Toyota adds one more level: It is always looking to improve the process by which it improves all the other processes.

There's a certain Zen sensibility to that--but also a relentlessly capitalistic, tenaciously competitive quality. If your factory is just making cars, once a day the whistle blows and it's quitting time, no more cars to make that day. If your factory is making a new way to make cars, the whistle never blows, you're never done.

Media accounts often report that a typical Toyota assembly line in the United States makes thousands of operational changes in the course of a single year. That number is not just large, it's arresting, it's mindboggling. How much have you changed your work routine in the past decade? Toyota's line employees change the way they work dozens of times a year.

Without fanfare, in fact, Toyota is confounding conventional wisdom about U.S. manufacturing. Toyota isn't outsourcing; it's creating jobs in the United States. It isn't having trouble manufacturing complicated products here- it's opening factories as quickly as its systems and quality standards allow.

So put aside everything you think you know about the current state of the car business in the United States. Sure, Toyota enjoys some structural advantages in the form of lower health care and pension costs. But the real reason it is thriving is because of people like Chad Buckner saying, "There's no reason to be satisfied." It is what he comes to the factory every day thinking about. It isn't exhausting, it's exhilarating.

Problems First

James Wiseman remembers the moment he realized that Toyota wasn't just another workplace but a different way of thinking about work. Before joining the company, he had been a factory manager, first for a swimsuit maker, then for a steel-tubing manufacturer. He joined Toyota's still-new Georgetown plant in October 1989 as manager of community relations. Today, he's vice president of corporate affairs for all of Toyota manufacturing in North America.

At the swimsuit factory and the tube factory, "there was always a lot of looking for the silver bullet," Wiseman says, "looking for the big, dramatic improvement. And I had the attitude that when you achieved something, you achieved it. You enjoyed it." He was steeped in the American business culture of not admitting, or even discussing, problems in settings like meetings.

Toyota Continued

In Wiseman's early days, Georgetown was run by Fujio Cho, now the chairman of Toyota worldwide. Every Friday, there was a senior staff meeting. "I started out going in there and reporting some of my little successes," says Wiseman. "One Friday, I gave a report of an activity we'd been doing"--planning the announcement of a plant expansion--"and I spoke very positively about it, I bragged a little. After two or three minutes, I sat down.

"And Mr. Cho kind of looked at me. I could see he was puzzled. He said, 'Jim-san. We all know you are a good manager, otherwise we would not have hired you. But please talk to us about your problems so we can all work on them together.'" Wiseman says it was like a lightning bolt. "Even with projects that had been a general success, we would ask, 'What didn't go well so we can make it better?'" At Toyota, Wiseman says, "I have come to understand what they mean when I hear the phrase, 'Problems first.'"

It's another cliché that is powerful if you take it seriously: You can't solve problems unless you admit them. At Toyota, there is a presumption of imperfection. Perfection is a fine goal, but improvement is much more realistic, much more human.

The challenge, of course, is to make the rhetoric real, to make the presumption of imperfection integral to how people think and work. Pete Gritton knows better than most how that happens; he and his staff have hired all the Kentuckians who work at Toyota Georgetown.

"We want people to be problem solvers," Gritton says. "Because every time there's a problem, we don't send out some guy in a white shirt with a clipboard." New hires--10% of job applicants make it through screening tests that include a team-building exercise--are immersed in Toyota's process for process improvement. There are daily work-group meetings, a written suggestion program, and longer-term problem-solving teams. But everything is grounded in two hard realities.

First, of course, "we have to make 2,000 cars a day. We can't vote about how to make each one," Gritton says. "We can't stop every few minutes and change the process." And then there is the most basic rule, the reason "continuous improvement" is not a matter of character or national culture or willpower, but is itself a kind of assembly line. "The rule here is that improving something starts after understanding the standard—understanding how we do it now," Gritton says. "If you don't understand what you're trying to improve, how do you know that your suggestion is an improvement?"

Once you see how woven into the work improving the work is, each particular improvement seems less interesting.

What's interesting is to compare how they think about work at Georgetown with everywhere else. How come the checkout lines at Wal-Mart never get shorter? How come the customer service of your cellphone company never improves, year after year? How come my PC gets harder to operate with each software upgrade?

It's almost as if Toyota people see the world with special four-dimensional glasses; the rest of us are stuck in 2-D.

In The End, There Is No End

Lots of companies have tried to learn and use the methods that Toyota has refined into a routine, a science, a way of being and thinking. Not least among those are ...GM, Ford, and Chrysler. For more than 20 years, in fact, Toyota and GM have operated a car factory together in California--the NUMMI project--that has allowed GM to study Toyota's methods up close.

And the Big Three have each gotten better at making cars: In the past decade, GM and Chrysler have cut by one-third the hours they need to assemble a car. But they all still trail Toyota. No one knows that better than GM. "We've made a whole lot of progress," says Dan Flores, a spokesman for GM's North American manufacturing operations--much of it by learning directly from Toyota. "Transforming a company the size of GM is a daunting task. The culture of the plants doesn't change overnight. But there has been a cultural change in the company—and that change continues."

Typically, though, the Big Three take an all-too-American approach to the idea of improvement. It's episodic, it's goal-oriented, it's something special--it's a pale imitation of the approach at Georgetown. "If you go to the Big Three, you'd find improvement projects just like you'd find at Georgetown," says Jeffrey Liker, a professor of engineering at the University of Michigan and author of The Toyota Way, a classic exploration of Toyota's methods. "But they would be led by some kind of engineering group, or a Six Sigma black belt, or a lean-manufacturing guru of some kind.

"They might even do as good a job as they did at Georgetown. But here's the thing. Then they'd turn that project into a PowerPoint. They'd present it at every place in the whole company. They'd say, 'Look what we did! In a year, that happens a couple of times in a whole plant for the Big Three. And it would get all kinds of publicity in the company.

"Toyota," Liker says, "is doing it in every single department, every single day. They're doing it on their own"--no black belts--"and they're doing it regularly, not just once." So you can buy the books, you can hire the consultants, you can implement the program, you can preach business transformation--and you can eventually run out of energy, lose enthusiasm, be puzzled over why the program failed to catch fire and transform your business, put the fat binders on a conference-room shelf, and go back to business as usual.

What happens every day at Georgetown, and throughout Toyota, is teachable and learnable. But it's not a set of goals, because goals mean there's a finish line, and there is no finish line. It's not something you can implement, because it's not a checklist of improvements. It's a way of looking at the world. You simply can't lose interest in it, shrug, and give up—any more than you can lose interest in your own future.

Discussion Questions

What organizational principles does Toyota use, that could be applicable to fraternity/sorority chapters?

How does Toyota create a "leaderful" environment?

How could a fraternity or sorority do the same thing?

How does Toyota view competition and collaboration?

Is this applicable to our Greek communities?

Is the attitude of "relentless improvement" present in your chapter? How can you promote this attitude?

Community Conversations

...But I've seen that there is no more powerful way to initiate significant change than to convene a conversation. When a community of people discovers that they share a concern, change begins. This is no power equal to a community discovering what it cares about.

Approaches to Conflict

There are many ways to respond to conflict situations. Some styles require great courage while other styles require great consideration for relationships. Some styles are cooperative, others competitive, and still others are quite passive.

Avoiding:

Avoid the conflict by pretending that it doesn't exist, minimize the differences between you, or refrain from engaging in what seems to be an inevitable argument. Examples of withdrawing include stonewalling, pretending that there is nothing wrong, and shutting down.

Courage = Low | Consideration for Relationship = Low

NO WAY

Accommodating:

Accommodate your partner by accepting her/his point of view or suggestion. Make peace to get past this sticking point. Allow the other to have his/her way. Be gracious and roll with the punches. Danger: over time, it's likely that the accommodator becomes resentful of the other party.

Courage = Low | Consideration for Relationship = High

YOUR WAY

Forcing:

Compete with the other party and ensure that you win the argument. Argue your point and do not concede any points. Fight to the finish if you must. Competitive approaches to conflict yield quick short term gains but the long term effects are great. Standing your ground requires courage but little consideration. You may win the battle, but you're likely to lose the relationship.

Courage = High | Consideration for Relationship = Low

MY WAY

Compromising:

Find a middle ground in which you both give up some ground to allow both parties to be partially satisfied. Negotiate and give in on small points in order to win the bigger battle. Looking for a common ground requires both courage and consideration. This seems good unless compromisers use guile and passive aggressive tactics to out-fox the other party.

Courage = Medium | Consideration for Relationship = Medium

HALF WAY

The Fifth Approach Collaborating:

Talk and listen to the other party. Discuss and clarify your goals and areas of agreement. Ensure that other parties understand and acknowledge each other's positions. Consider ways to resolve the problem without any concessions. Think "outside the box." Collaboration requires great courage as well as much consideration. Collaborators are generally interpersonally intelligent and are well respected and admired.

Ethical Decision Making

“We do not act rightly because we have virtue or excellence, but we rather have those because we have acted rightly.” - Aristotle

Common Rationalization for Unethical Behavior

- The belief that what I am doing is really not illegal or unethical.
- The belief that there are times when the ends justify the means.
- The belief that what I am doing is important to the welfare of the organization, and that the organization would support it.
- The belief that I am expected by my organization to do this, or that it is the norm.
- The belief that no one will ever know or find out.
- If it's necessary, it's ethical.

Hierarchy of Bad Decisions

- Clearly Illegal
- Clearly Immoral or Unethical
- Insensitive to human feelings and needs
- Dangerous
- Irritating or annoying
- Incredibly stupid
- Ineffective or Impractical

Ethical Dilemma Questions

- Is it legal: what guidance can I gain from existing standards?
- Is it balanced: what does my sense of fairness tell me?
- How will it make me feel about myself: what can I draw from my own personal emotions and standards of morality?

Five Cornerstone of Ethical Behavior

1. Do what you say you will.
2. Never divulge information given in confidence.
3. Accept responsibility for mistakes.
4. Never become involved in a lie.
5. Avoid accepting gifts that compromise your ability to perform in the best interest of your organization.
