The Freshmen Leadership Council offers incoming freshmen an opportunity to interact with faculty and administration, current student leaders on-campus, and a talented, diverse group of their peers. This council will meet bimonthly to discuss their experience on campus and work to develop improvements for Ball State University. Freshmen will become acclimated to BSU’s campus and create relationships with administration and upper class student leaders, all while learning leadership skills and working to enhance Ball State University.

The council members must be outgoing and have excellent problem solving skills. Students must also be able to communicate with administration in a professional manner and be willing to discuss their opinions on various matters on campus. The council will be chosen through an application, which is due August 31, 2013 by midnight. You will be notified within the following two weeks. Meetings are every other Monday from 3:00-4:00 p.m. To submit the application or if you have any questions, contact us at flc@bsu.edu or our Facebook page, Freshman Leadership Council.
