Early Childhood Emotion Project

Parents/Guardians (18 and over) and children are invited to be part of a study looking at emotion and memory in 3 to 6-year-olds. The study would involve both the parent and child coming to the PACE lab located on the Ball State Campus for approx. 90 minutes, parents filling out questionnaires, and your child playing different emotion and memory games. During these games, your child would wear a stretchy cap that fits like a swim cap as well as two small heart rate stickers to measure brain and heart rate activity.

You would receive $35 for participating and your child a small thank you gift. What we learn from this study will help us better understand how we develop.

Would you be interested in hearing more about this study?
