Diversity this Week
A message from the Associate Provost for Diversity
Doing the work of creating an inclusive culture here at Ball State University

View the complete Diversity This Week Here

This Week in Diversity NOW
Monday, January 8, 7:00 PM, Multipurpose room Student Center
Green Dot Bystander Intervention is built on the premise that violence can be measurably and systematically reduced within a community. Green Dot’s mission is to reduce power based-violence through proactive bystander intervention.

Wednesday, January 10, 5:30 PM Alumni Center
American Association of University Women at Ball State

Save the Dates – please attend, (Reservations appreciated but not required.)
Here is a link to the complete list of UNITY Week events – All are free and open to the community.

MLK community breakfast, Monday, January 15 at 9:00 AM Ball State Student Center
MLK Unity March, Monday, January 15 at 11:00 AM
Jasmine Rand, Attorney of the Trayvon Martin family, Tuesday, January 16, 7:30 PM Pruis Hall

Diversity and Inclusion Faculty Lunch Conversations, RSVP appreciated but not require.
Developing Listening and Discussion Skills in the Diverse Classroom – “Listening for understanding as opposed to rebuttal.” Are your students good listeners? How would being a better listener help your students learn more? This session focuses on classroom strategies that will increase students’ listening and learning capacity. Ways to connect listening skills to learning objectives across the curriculum will also be discussed.
TC 1008 12:00-1:00 PM Tuesday, January 16 or Wednesday, January 17

Expand your horizons…
January is National Mentoring Month
This observance encourages volunteer mentors to help young people from diverse backgrounds reach their full potential. Find out more about National Mentoring Month.

& looking back. This week in Diversity in 1932

Ophelia Wyatt Caraway, a Democrat from Arkansas, became the first woman to be elected to the U.S. Senate. Caraway, born near Bakerville, Tennessee, had been appointed to the Senate two months earlier to fill the vacancy left by her late husband, Thaddeus Horatio Caraway. With the support of Huey Long, a powerful senator from Louisiana, Caraway was elected to the seat. In 1938, she was reelected. After failing to win renomination in 1944, she was appointed to the Federal Employees Compensation Commission by President Franklin Roosevelt.

View the timeline of women’s rights from 1769 to the 2017 Women’s March on Washington.

Featured Diversity Scholarship  An opportunity to showcase faculty publications 2016-17

Kristin Cipollone
Assistant Professor of Elementary Education

National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity
SKILL #10: How to Manage Stress, Rejection & the Haters in Your Midst

- The impact that stress and negativity can have if they are not managed
- Identify the most common areas of stress in academic life
- Concrete strategies for managing the physical, emotional, and attitudinal effects of stress

View the webinar using this link https://www.facultydiversity.org/webnars/rejection17

Can’t view the resource? Be sure to register. Ball State University faculty and graduate students can register at https://www.facultydiversity.org/join

Contact OID  Phone 765-285-5316  Email OID@bsu.edu  Carmichael Hall, Room 104